A CID team raiding Abhishek Banerjee's office; and Mamata Banerjee leaves Sonia Gandhi's house in Delhi | PTI/PARVEEN NEGI

CID raids Mamata's office amid meeting with Sonia

Buzz over Didi seeking INDIA bloc help to contest Basirhat LS bypoll

PREETHA NAIR & SUBHENDU MAITI @ New Delhi/Kolkata

TRINAMOOL Congress chief Mamata Banerjee held closed-door talks with senior Congress leader Sonia Gandhi at her 10, Janpath residence on Tuesday even as CID teams in Kolkata raided TMC offices at her Kalighat residence and Camac Street.

The meeting followed Sonia and Mamata's warm hug at the Opposition INDIA bloc's meeting the previous day.

Just a day earlier, leaders of 23 Opposition parties vowed unity and better coordination among the alliance partners. According to sources, Rahul Gandhi told the Opposition meeting that if TMC and Congress had tied up in the West Bengal election, the results would have been different.

Sources said Mamata and Sonia discussed the strategy between the two parties going forward. This was their first closed-door meeting after Trinamool's defeat in the polls, and alleged attacks on party workers and MP Abhishek Banerjee after the elections. The meeting also comes amid speculation that Mamata is seeking the help of Congress and the INDIA bloc to contest a by-election from Basirhat Lok Sabha constituency. The seat fell vacant after the death of TMC MP Haji Nurul Islam.

A rebellion within the TMC, with as many as 20 MPs deciding to form a separate group and align with the ruling NDA, has added to Mamata's troubles. A majority of Trinamool's 80 MLAs have already formed a separate group led by Ritabrata Banerjee as the leader of opposition in the state Assembly.

The timing of the raids on TMC offices as Mamata sat with Sonia, led to an uproar from TMC leaders. TMC joint secretary Derek O'Brien called it "political vendetta, shamelessly timed." Two CID teams swept into TMC offices in Kolkata to probe allegations of forged signatures of party MLAs in connection with the election of Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay as Leader of the Opposition in Bengal.

A CID team was prevented from entering Mamata's house-cum-office by Subhashis Chakraborty, former Rajya Sabha MP. After waiting outside for about 40 minutes, thet managed to enter the office.

Abhishek Banerjee, Mamata's nephew and the party's national general secretary, was also in Delhi and missed a 5 pm deadline to appear before the CID at Bhabani Bhaban.

RESOURCE CRUNCH

Big push to asset, land monetisation

DIPAK MONDAL AND PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

WITH the Centre facing a significant resource crunch following a series of emergency measures to shield the economy from the West Asia crisis, the government has activated plans to mobilise additional revenue, official sources said on Tuesday. The measures include aggressively pursuing asset and land monetisation while also stepping up efforts to raise funds through disinvestment.

Sources said senior government officials are holding weekly meetings with the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) and the Department of Public Enterprises (DPE) to explore more avenues for resource mobilisation. The government hopes DIPAM would exceed the Budget target of ₹80,000 crore from disinvestment in FY27.

One official said the proposed strategic sale of IDBI Bank, which had been put on hold due to valuation concerns and lack of investor interest, is likely to be revived.

The government has set a target of ₹10 lakh crore in asset monetisation during the five-year period from FY26 to FY30 under the National Monetisation Pipeline (NMP) 2.0. Under NMP 1.0, it achieved nearly 90% of its ₹6 lakh crore target.

At the same time, the Centre is accelerating the monetisation of idle and non-core public assets through the National Land Monetisation Corporation (NLMC). According to the DPE, approvals were received during FY26 for monetisation of assets valued around ₹10,048 crore.

The government has also launched a fresh Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) with an outlay of ₹18,000 crore to support MSMEs and the aviation sector.

Kharge, 3 others to be elected to RS from state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ALL-INDIA Congress Committee (AICC) president Mallikarjun Kharge is set to be elected unopposed to the Rajya Sabha from Karnataka for a second term. Along with him, Pawan Khera, Chairman of the media and publicity wing of Congress, senior Congress leader Mansoor Ali Khan and Prof M Nagaraja from BJP too are set to be elected unopposed from Karnataka.

Kharge, serving as leader of opposition in the Rajya Sabha, was elected to the Upper House in 2020 for the first term after he lost elections from the Kalaburagi Lok Sabha constituency in 2019. His re-election enables him to continue as leader of opposition in the Upper House. Kharge has been an MLA for nine times and was Union minister for railways, Labour and handled other portfolios during the UPA government.

Monday was the last day for filing nominations to the four Rajya Sabha seats. Of the five candidates who filed nominations, independent candidate Bhojanna Somaiya's papers were rejected during scrutiny on Tuesday due to the absence of a valid proposer's signature. With three Congress candidates and one from BJP left in the fray, all four are set to be elected unopposed. The formal declaration will be made after June 11, the last date for withdrawal of nominations.

Woman raped in D'gere; minor, 9 others arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Davanagere

IN a disgraceful incident that has come to light late, a 40-year-old woman was raped by 10 people, including a minor, at Basavapattana in Channagiri taluk of Davanagere district on June 3.

The woman, who had quarrelled with her husband -- a habitual drunkard, had walked out of the house in a huff. She was heading towards her parents' home at a village (name withheld to protect her identity) close to Basavapattana, when she stopped at a shop near the police station.

Around 7.30 pm, the minor, who is known to her as he is from the same village, came near the shop on a motorbike and offered to drop her to the village. He gave the woman a soft drink and after drinking it, she fell unconscious. The minor then took her to an isolated place, called the others and all of them sexually assaulted her, even as one of the rapists videographed the entire crime. The woman regained consciousness around 3.30 am, went to her maternal home and kept quiet about the sexual assault. P7

Gukesh and the burden of being world champ

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN

D GUKESH, the youngest undisputed world chess champion in history, has admitted that managing expectations has been one of the hardest things as world champion. "As much as you try to switch off, you are still aware that there is this kind of elephant in the room," he told a few Indian journalists after Norway Chess.

"Like you are expected and also you expect something. I'm in general also an ambitious player and I keep going for wins. Considering all these things, it has been pretty hard. But, okay, I either break from it or grow through it." In one of the most candid conversations by an Indian sportsperson, the 20-year-old said he had struggled for motivation during 'parts of 2025'. "You can still do everything that you've been doing," the 20-year-old said. "But the reason why you're doing it is different. You're not waking up striving for the World Championship. But it doesn't mean you have to lose motivation. There was obviously some, probably in parts of 2025, there was some motivation issues. But if you really love the sport, if you're able to connect back to it, that's why people keep saying, 'find the reason why you started playing the sport'. I feel like external resources can never, they're not reliable sources of motivation for a very long time. So, something that drives you from within, that's something that I've been trying to connect with."

He vowed to keep fighting because 'I don't know what else I would want to spend the day with'.

To feature at Chennai GM

The 20-year-old has decided to feature in his home tournament, the Chennai Grand Masters, India's strongest Classical event. This wasn't initially on his calendar but it's an event that has fond memories. The fourth editions begins from July 16.

GBA mops up 49% of property tax target in just two months

The five corporations collected Rs 2,933 crore between April 1 and early June

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

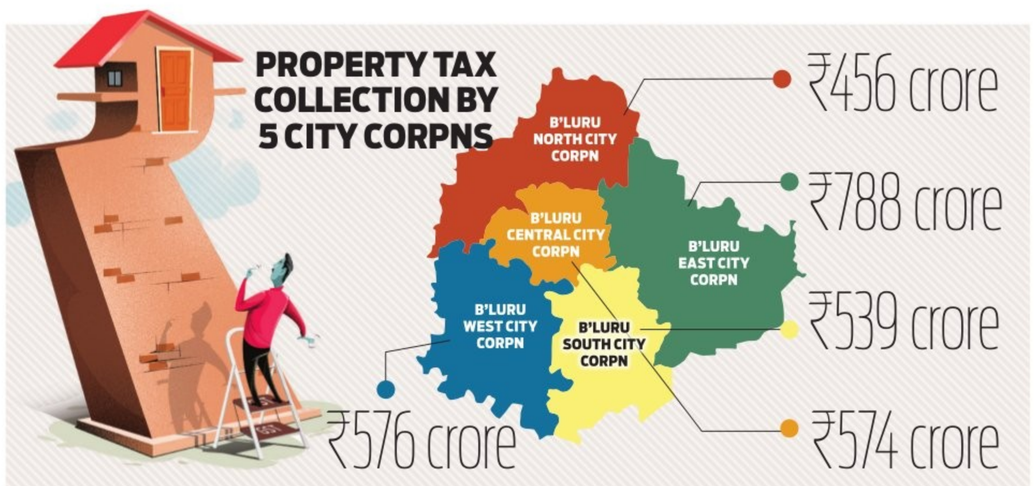
FIVE city corporations under the Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) have collected a total of Rs 2,933 crore in property tax for the financial year 2026-27 so far, achieving 48.8 per cent of their annual target of Rs 6,000 crore.

Among the five corporations, Bengaluru East City Corporation (BECC) recorded the highest collection at Rs 788 crore, while Bengaluru North City Corporation collected the least at Rs 456 crore between April 1 and early June.

Corporation officials said it is common to witness a surge in property tax collections at the beginning of a financial year. The GBA offers a 5 per cent rebate to property owners who pay their annual tax in full at the start of the financial year. This year, the rebate period was extended till May 31.

Officials attributed the strong collections to taxpayers availing themselves of the early-payment incentive, which helped the five corporations collect Rs 2,933 crore within the first two months of the financial year.

Revenue officials said they have been assigned collection targets and are adopting multiple measures to improve tax recovery. Notices are being issued to property owners with significant outstanding dues, urging them to clear pending payments. Commercial establishments that continue to default on tax payments are also facing enforcement action, including closure.



East City Corpn to go after defaulters

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU East City Corporation (BECC) has decided to take tough action against property tax defaulters in its limits.

This decision comes in the wake of property tax defaulters ignoring the warnings of the corporation.

As a first step, Joint Commissioner of KR Puram division Sudha Swapna Pais has formed a new legal team and asked it to get the stay order against the corporation's action vacated at the earliest. Three big defaulters -- Phoenix Market City, Evoma Hotel and Xylem properties -- have tax dues amounting to Rs 33 crore.

She said the city corporations under the Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) have initiated strict action against tax defaulters. They will collect tax dues along with interest.

"Phoenix Market City owes a huge amount. It has come to my notice that the mall has obtained a stay order from the high court against the corporation's action. Once we get the stay order vacated, strict action will be taken against all such defaulters," she said.

Pais said Phoenix Market City has to pay Rs 23 crore, Evoma Hotel Rs 7 crore and Xylem properties Rs 3 crore.

However, an official from BECC stated that as on April 24, 2026, the mall made a payment of Rs 5,24,51,011. It paid the same amount for 2025 as well.

It is said that the joint commissioner's office had sought an explanation from town planning officials for giving permission to the mall for additional construction work though it had defaulted on payment of tax. However, the town planning officials defended their action stating that permission for additional construction work and non-payment of tax were different issues. The mall was given a sanction plan and due to the pandemic, it could not take up construction work then. The mall had applied for a modified plan and started construction work, a senior town planning official said.

Piles of garbage dumped in front of houses on Tannery Road due to erratic collection | EXPRESS

Tannery Road, Shampura turn into garbage dumps

YATISH P NAYAKA @ Bengaluru

TRY and take a walk along Tannery Road, or the lanes of Shampura. Garbage piles hog half the narrow street space and a rotting odour pervades the area. Yet, business is as usual as residents adjust and move on with their lives.

Irregular garbage collection has raised growing concerns among residents, with complaints of waste piling up along residential streets due to inconsistent pickup schedules. Local residents say that delayed waste collection has led to unhygienic conditions and a rising number of black spots in several lanes.

Residents complain that garbage collection vehicles do not arrive at fixed timings, leaving households uncertain about disposal schedules. As a result, waste is frequently left outside homes for extended periods, attracting stray dogs and cattle, particularly in the early mornings and late evenings.

Sathish Kumar and Aqib, both residents of Shampura, say they never know when the garbage truck will come. "Sometimes it comes late or skips the lane, and garbage just keeps piling up near the street corner."

Another resident from Tannery Road added, "The smell becomes worse during rainy days, and also blocks small drainage paths near a private school in the area."

In several narrow lanes, empty plots and roadside corners have gradually turned into regular dumping points. Locals say that once garbage starts accumulating in one spot, the pile begins to spread and turns into a massive black spot. Daily commuters and shopkeepers in the area also report difficulties, as waste piles reduce walking space and create unpleasant conditions in busy streets. Some also say that clogged drains caused by plastic waste sometimes lead to minor waterlogging during the rains.

Residents have urged civic authorities to introduce fixed garbage collection timings, improve monitoring systems, and take strict action against roadside dumping. They also suggest installing more public dustbins and ensuring regular cleaning of identified hotspots.

A Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) marshal, requesting anonymity, said, "Garbage collection delays in some pockets are there due to vehicle routing issues and manpower shortage. There are efforts to streamline the pickup system and improve schedule adherence. In certain congested areas, vehicles face difficulty while entering narrow lanes, which sometimes causes delays."

Rao orders fire audit of KR Market

GBA Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao inspects KR Market on Tuesday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN the backdrop of the deadly fire at a crowded locality in New Delhi that claimed the lives of 21 people recently, Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao instructed officials to conduct a fire audit of the iconic KR Market.

While inspecting the market, which falls under the Bengaluru Central City Corporation (BCCC), on Tuesday, Rao told the officials to take note of worst case scenarios in case of a fire accident in the market, the effectiveness of the fire extinguishing system and the steps to be taken in such a situation. He said in case of a fire, the emergency exits should be adequate for people to be evacuated.

He said fire hydrant systems should be installed in the building so that any blaze can be doused quickly.

The chief commissioner, who went around the market, seemed upset over encroachments and directed that they be identified and removed by levying fines. He told officials to take measures so that market visitors do not experience any inconvenience. "Vendors must conduct business only in the specified spots reserved for them. Officials have been given strict instructions to identify the spots and ensure that the business done by vendors is only in the designated places," Rao said.

Noticing the poor condition of public toilets in the market, he directed officials to maintain sanitation. He ordered demolition of a dilapidated toilet and directed that the space be used for garbage disposal. Officials were told to ensure that the market is cleaned regularly.

BCCC Commissioner G Jagadeesha and other officials accompanied Rao.

During MP's visit, Anekal rail users seek better infra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

RAIL users from Anekal have urged Bengaluru Rural MP Dr CN Manjunath to intervene in a series of long-pending railway infrastructure and service issues affecting thousands of daily passengers on the Bengaluru-Hosur corridor.

A memorandum submitted by Citizens for Better Bengaluru during the MP's visit to Anekal Road railway station on Tuesday highlighted concerns over the proposed extension of the Yeshwantpur-Hosur MEMU service to Periyanagathunai. The group argued that IT professionals, government employees and office-goers commuting to Bengaluru are heavily dependent on the existing train, which departs Anekal and Heelalige around 8.30 am. According to the memorandum, the service benefits more than 2,000 daily commuters, including around 500 passengers from the Bengaluru Rural constituency. Commuters fear that extending the train could affect its punctuality and convenience.

Bengaluru Rural MP Dr CN Manjunath interacts with rail commuters at Anekal Road railway station on Tuesday

The rail users also demanded a dedicated platform for Salem-route trains at Baiyappanahalli station. They pointed out that the absence of a separate platform often forces trains to wait for track clearance, leading to delays and limiting the scope for introducing additional suburban MEMU services between Bengaluru and Hosur.

SHIVAM PROBE: KANNADA ACTORS UNDER CID LENS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

THE Criminal Investigation Department (CID) has intensified its investigation into the alleged multi-crore deposit fraud by Shivam Associates and is likely to issue notices to several prominent Kannada film personalities who participated in a high-profile event organised by the company last year.

According to sources, actors Dhananjaya, Vasishta N Simha, Ragini Dwivedi and Sapthami Gowda are among those expected to be served notices as part of the investigation. The actors had attended the "Kannada Utsava" organised by the company in Belagavi on December 27 last year. The event is now under scrutiny as part of the ongoing probe.

The programme was organised under the leadership of Shivam Associates owner Shivanand Neelannavar and reportedly drew thousands of attendees. Investigators believe that several crores of rupees was spent on the large-scale event, prompting questions about the source of the funds. CID sleuths suspect that money collected from investors may have been used to finance the event.

As part of the investigation, authorities are seeking information from the actors and actresses who attended the event regarding the nature of their involvement, contractual arrangements, remuneration and other related details.

Shivam Associates is accused of running fraudulent deposit schemes and allegedly cheating investors of thousands of crores of rupees by promising unusually high returns and lucrative profits. Preliminary findings indicate that the company attracted deposits from thousands of investors across multiple districts of Karnataka and neighbouring states.

The proposed questioning of well-known film personalities has added a significant new dimension to the case. Investigators believe their statements could help establish details regarding the company's financial transactions and promotional activities.

Efforts to obtain a response from CID DIG Bheemashankar Guled were unsuccessful, as he was unavailable for comment.

City police have arrested four people, including three from other states, in separate cases and seized over 22 kg of drugs, including codeine cough syrup, worth Rs 14.94 lakh. They were arrested in Marathahalli, Bommanahalli, Pulakeshinagar and Bharathinagar police limits. During interrogation, the accused reportedly confessed that they procured drugs from various sources within the state and elsewhere. They then sold the drugs at higher prices to college students and others in the city. The seizure included 10.2 kg of ganja, 20 grams of MDMA, 10.03 grams of methamphetamine and 2.5 kg of codeine cough syrup. Efforts are on to trace those who supplied drugs to the accused, the officer said. ENS

Trader kills wife, son, self, blames 'Shakti' for biz loss

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mandya

A 65-year-old textile merchant allegedly killed his wife and son before dying by suicide at his shop in Mandya in the early hours of Tuesday.

In his death note, he blamed the government's Shakti free bus travel scheme, saying women travelled to cities to purchase clothes instead of buying from him, leading to heavy losses in his business and rendering him unable to repay the loan taken from private finance firms.

Prabhakar (65) strangled to death both his wife Jyothi (55) and son Santosh (30) at home, and later hanged himself to death at his shop. His son was married just a month-and-a-half ago. The tragedy occurred in Nehru Nagar in Mandya around 3.30 am, the police said.

Prabhakar, who was said to be under severe mental stress and depression, first strangled his wife Jyothi with a veil and later he also strangled his son Santosh when he came to his mother's rescue. After both his wife and son died, Prabhakar went to his shop in Nehru Nagar and hanged himself.

Santosh's newlywed wife was fast asleep when the tragedy was unfolding. She woke up in the morning, prepared breakfast and went to the room to wake up her mother-in-law when she found both Jyoti and Santosh dead. She alerted the neighbours and relatives, who informed the police.

Prabhakar's death note was found at the suicide spot, in which he mentioned that financial hardship was the reason for his death and the end of his family. He also blamed the Shakti scheme, saying the local clothing trade completely collapsed as people are moving to cities to purchase clothes.

As the business was dull, he could not pay interest to private financial firms. If the loan was not repaid, agents from these companies would land at his doorstep and harass the family, he wrote. He also mentioned that he took the extreme step as he was scared of dishonour to his family and loss of his dignity.

Superintendent of Police Shobharani said, "The death note talks about loan harassment and business loss. For now, all three bodies have been sent for postmortem. A case has been registered at the Mandya East Police Station and an investigation will also be conducted into the harassment by private finance companies."

Quarry owner among 4 held for storing explosives

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A STONE quarry owner and four others have been arrested for allegedly illegally storing more than 225 gelatin sticks and over 50 detonators at a quarry near Vidhana Soudha Layout in Bidarahalli.

Based on a tip-off, the Avalahalli police raided the quarry and seized the explosives, which were allegedly stored without the required authorisation. Police are questioning the accused to ascertain the source of the explosive materials.

Police said two personnel attached to the Avalahalli police station were on patrol around 3 am on June 4 when they received information that a quarry operated by Venkateshwara Granites Crusher near Vidhana Soudha Layout was storing explosives illegally.

The policemen visited the quarry around 4 am. During questioning, three workers identified as Vikas, Tohid and Sandeep allegedly told police that quarry owner Venkataramana Reddy and crusher supervisor Lokesh Reddy had instructed them to use detonators and other explosives stored at the site to blast rocks and supply the crushed stones to the crusher unit.

When asked to produce licences or authorisation for carrying out blasting operations, the workers reportedly stated that they did not possess any such documents.

A case has been registered against Venkataramana Reddy, Lokesh Reddy and the three workers involved in the blasting operations. They have been booked under the Explosive Substances Act, the Explosives Rules and sections relating to negligent conduct with respect to explosive substances.

'MIFFED' KRISHNA BYRE GOWDA IN DELHI, TO MEET CONG TOP BRASS

He's accompanied by Congress MLAs Rizwan Arshad, Srinivas Mane and TB Jayachandra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BENGALURU Development Minister Krishna Byre Gowda is in New Delhi to meet Congress high command leaders amid reports that he is miffed over his portfolio. According to informed sources, Gowda is unhappy as key agencies such as the Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA) and Bengaluru Metropolitan Region Development Authority (BMRDA) still remain under Chief Minister DK Shivakumar's control.

Gowda is currently in the national capital with a few Congress legislators who aspire to become ministers when Shivakumar expands his cabinet. They are awaiting appointments with senior party leaders to discuss their concerns and political aspirations.

This development comes days after Shivakumar took oath as the CM along with 13 ministers.

Earlier, BTM Layout MLA Ramalinga Reddy (Major and Medium Irrigation) and Devanahalli MLA KH Muniyappa (Food and Civil Supplies) had expressed displeasure over the portfolios allotted to them.

According to Congress sources, Gowda plans to meet the Congress high command leaders and seek the revenue portfolio, which he held in the previous Siddaramaiah cabinet.

The Revenue Department is currently headed by Deputy CM Dr G Parameshwara.

Gowda is said to be unwilling to continue with the Bengaluru Development portfolio unless BDA and BMRDA are brought under his charge.

Gowda is accompanied in Delhi by Congress MLAs Rizwan Arshad, Srinivas Mane and TB Jayachandra, who are lobbying for ministerial berths. Jayachandra has been appointed as the Special Representative for Karnataka in Delhi, a post that he had when Siddaramaiah was the CM.

Sources said Gowda and Rizwan met Siddaramaiah at his residence on Monday night before leaving for Delhi.

Meanwhile, Muniyappa is said to have once again expressed his displeasure over the portfolio to LoP in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, who was in Benglauru to attend AICC Secretary Suraj Hegde's last rites on Tuesday. Muniyappa is demanding that he be made the Social Welfare Minister.

It can be noted that Ramalinga Reddy had tendered his resignation demanding that he be made the Bengaluru Development Minister. But later, he withdrew his resignation after Shivakumar's intervention.

Meanwhile, Shivakumar and Dr G Parameshwara are going to Delhi on Wednesday, where they are expected to discuss with the party top brass the cabinet expansion, which is likely to be done after the June 18 Rajya Sabha and MLC polls.

Meanwhile, Minister for Energy and Tourism KJ George has said that he has not expressed any dissatisfaction over his portfolios. "I am fully committed to working under the leadership of Chief Minister DK Shivakumar and contributing towards the effective functioning of the government. My sole focus is on serving the people of Karnataka and supporting the government's development agenda," George said, dismissing reports in a section of the media.

CM to attend NITI Aayog meet in Delhi

KARNATAKA Chief Minister DK Shivakumar is scheduled to visit New Delhi on June 10 and 11 to meet Congress central leaders and attend the NITI Aayog meeting. The CM is scheduled to leave for the national capital at 9.30 am on Wednesday. He is likely to meet Leader of the Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi, senior Congress leader Sonia Gandhi, and other senior leaders of the party on Wednesday. Shivakumar is visiting the AICC, NSUI, Indian Youth Congress, and All-India Mahila Congress offices and will hold a dinner meeting with senior IAS officers at the Karnataka Bhavan. On Thursday, the CM will attend the 11th Governing Council meeting of NITI Aayog. In 2025, the then CM Siddaramaiah had skipped the 10th Governing Council meeting of the NITI Aayog citibg prior commitments as a reason for abstaining from the meeting and had sent a message to be presented at the meeting chaired by PM.

Cong trying to create rift in NDA, shedding crocodile tears: HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mandya

UNION Minister for Steel and Heavy Industries HD Kumaraswamy on Tuesday accused Congress leaders of shedding "crocodile tears" for former Prime Minister and JDS patriarch HD Deve Gowda over the issue of Rajya Sabha nominations, asserting that the BJP had not denied him a ticket and that Congress was attempting to create a rift between the two NDA partners.

Speaking to reporters after inaugurating school classrooms funded through Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives at Taggahalli village in Mandya district's Srirangapatna Assembly constituency, Kumaraswamy strongly criticised the Congress for what he described as a politically motivated campaign.

"Congress leaders are unnecessarily raising the Rajya Sabha ticket issue. They have no genuine concern for Deve Gowda. Their attempt to create a divide in the BJP-JDS alliance will fail," Kumaraswamy said, clarifying that Gowda had not even applied for a Rajya Sabha renomination.

> When his (Deve Gowda) self-respect was hurt, he walked away from the Prime Minister's post. He is not someone who is greedy for positions
>
> HD Kumaraswamy, Union Min for Steel and Heavy Industries

Accusing the Congress of using Gowda's name to divert attention from its own shortcomings, Kumaraswamy said that the former PM was a fighter who had never been driven by a desire for power. "When his self-respect was hurt, he walked away from the PM's post. He is not someone who is greedy for positions," Kumaraswamy said.

Referring to Congress leaders' claims about supporting Gowda's unopposed election to the Rajya Sabha in the past, Kumaraswamy said the circumstances at the time were different.

"No party had sufficient numbers to field a winning candidate against Deve Gowda. Our party had the numbers required, and that is how he was elected. He did not enter the Rajya Sabha because of Congress support," Kumaraswamy said.

On political developments in Karnataka, Kumaraswamy said the JDS would wait for the next two months and observe the actions of Chief Minister DK Shivakumar. He, however, declined to comment on remarks made by a former minister who had claimed that there was "deep silence" in Gowda's residence amid speculation about Shivakumar becoming the CM.

Responding to reports that former minister BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan had been in touch with him, Kumaraswamy dismissed the claims and clarified that he had not been in contact with any Congress leaders.

Reacting to Shivakumar's recent statement that he would visit Kumaraswamy's residence to seek his advice, the Union Minister said, "What advice should I give him? What advice will he come and ask me for? I know everything. There is a saying by our elders - 'Ati Vinayam Doorta Lakshanam' (excessive humility is a sign of cunning). That saying keeps coming to my mind."

On the possibility of JDS fielding a candidate in the Legislative Council elections, Kumaraswamy said both JDS and Congress required two additional votes. "There is no game plan. We will seek support from Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, who has been expelled from the BJP. We will make our efforts. Congress has financial strength. Let us see what happens," he said.

On rise in fuel and gas prices, Kumaraswamy attributed the increase to global conditions triggered by ongoing conflicts. "This is not happening only in India. Many countries across the world are facing a similar situation," he said.

He also accused Congress of politicising every issue. "In Karnataka itself, the Congress government has continuously increased prices over the past three-and-a-half years," he added.

After RS candidate rejected, Cong resort politics plan falls through

BANSY KALAPPA
@ Bengaluru

THE much-hyped 'resort politics' operation of the Congress was thrown into disarray even before it could take off. The party had planned to fly Madhya Pradesh MLAs to Karnataka and shelter them at Wonderla resort near Bidadi to prevent cross-voting or poaching ahead of the June 18 Rajya Sabha polls. Karnataka Chief Minister DK Shivakumar was personally overseeing the exercise — repeating the 2017 strategy he had used to protect Gujarat MLAs for the late Ahmed Patel.

However, in a major setback, the Election Commission rejected the candidature of Congress' Rajya Sabha candidate Meenakshi Natarajan. As a result, all 63 Congress MLAs who were scheduled to fly to Bengaluru on Tuesday evening remain in Bhopal. Only one MLA who was travelling on his own reached Bengaluru.

Senior Congress leaders had earlier confirmed the mass relocation plan, with sources stating that each MLA would be accompanied by an aide and personal security, turning the resort into a heavily guarded "poach-proof" camp with 24x7 vigil, phone restrictions, and on-site minders for nine days. KPCC leaders had publicly assured that the legislators would be "housed safely in Bengaluru till the date of the polls".

The move was triggered by BJP fielding a fifth candidate, sparking fears of aggressive wooing by the saffron party. The Congress had accused the BJP of desperate attempts to secure extra votes, prompting the resort operation.

Party insiders have admitted the irony of resort politics: Many Gujarat MLAs sheltered in Bengaluru in 2017 later defected to the BJP, part of a larger exodus in which Congress claims to have lost over 2,000 representatives to the saffron party in the past 12 years. With polls just days away, the sudden disqualification has put the Congress strategy on hold.

"This is an unfortunate practice followed in recent decades. 'Resort politics' is not exclusive to the Congress, the BJP too resorts to it. This tendency reflects the leadership's lack of confidence in their party members," said Prof PS Jayaramu, a political analyst.

VIDHANA SOUDHA POLICE FOIL FARMER'S SUICIDE BID OVER COMPENSATION DELAY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A farmer from Chikkamagaluru allegedly attempted to end his life by hanging himself from a tree inside Vidhana Soudha premises, claiming that prolonged delays in receiving compensation for land acquired for a National Highway project had left him in severe financial and mental distress.

According to the police, the incident occurred around 12.45pm near Devaraj Urs statue when TN Vishukumar, a farmer and sandalwood cultivator from Haliyur village in Tarikere taluk, allegedly attempted to take his own life. He had climbed a tree, placed a green shawl around his neck, tied it to a tree branch, and threatened to hang himself. However, police personnel deployed at the spot intervened promptly and detained him.

He alleged that 1.5 acres of his land had been acquired by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) in 2016 for a highway project. He maintained that the valuation of sandalwood trees on the acquired land was carried out by the state Forest department and forwarded to NHAI, and alleged that incorrect assessment had delayed the release of compensation. The prolonged delay reportedly caused him severe mental distress, prompting the extreme act.It may be recalled that he was earlier detained by Vidhana Soudha police after chopping off the branches of a sandalwood tree outside Vidhana Soudha in an attempt to draw attention to his demand for fair compensation.

BJP hits out at Priyank over RSS remark

BENGALURU: Opposition Bharatiya Janata Party hit out at Karnataka Home Minister Priyank Kharge for questioning the registration status of RSS. HIV cases among gays in K'taka rise from 166 to 412

Activists urge govt to use digital platforms to create awareness

GAYATHRI M KURUP @Bengaluru

THE number of HIV-positive cases among men who have sex with men (MSM) in Karnataka has increased from 166 in 2023-24 to 412 in 2025-26, according to data from the Karnataka State AIDS Prevention Society (KSAPS). The figures show a steady rise over the three years, with cases increasing to 362 in 2024-25 before reaching 412 in 2025-26.

Data from KSAPS also shows that the number of MSM individuals registered under targeted Intervention Programmes (IP) increased from 44,581 in 2023-24 to 62,664 in 2024-25 and 66,606 in 2025-26. The highest number of registered individuals was in the 26-35 age group, followed by those aged 18-25 years. An IP for MSM refers to targeted public health initiatives aimed at preventing the spread of HIV and other STIs.

"Among the MSM population, lack of awareness and misinformation about HIV and sexual health continue to be major concerns. Many individuals engage in sexual activity without knowing safe sex practices and the importance of regular HIV testing. With the increasing use of dating applications, people are able to connect easily. There is a need for sustained education and outreach to ensure that individuals have access to accurate information and preventive services," said Padma Basavanthappa, Project Director, KSAPS. She added that the state records around 12,000 to 13,000 HIV-positive cases annually across all categories, including MSM.

NGOs working with key populations, including MSM, transgender people, female sex workers, migrants and truckers, play a crucial role in HIV prevention efforts. "The NGOs are given a target of increasing their numbers by 25% each year," Basavanthappa said. "The individuals are given condoms, they are guided on how to have safe sex, their health check-ups are done, and they are linked to social security schemes," she stressed.

Manohar Elavarthi, State Committee Member of the Movement for Gender and Sexual Pluralism, said HIV awareness initiatives need to adapt to changing patterns of communication among young people. "Instead of blaming youths, the government must find effective ways to reach them on the digital platforms that they use every day," he said.

Hanumantha Rayappa, deputy director of Integrated Counselling and Testing Centres (ICTC), said many people with HIV remain unaware of their infection due to the absence of early symptoms. He encouraged the use of the Break Free App and free HIV testing at ICTCs in Karnataka, with free Antiretroviral Therapy services at government hospitals.

Youth Congress leader, aide held for extorting ₹2.7cr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

YOUTH Congress leader Nizam Ibrahim and his associate Jitesh were arrested by Urwa police in Mangaluru on the charges of 'blackmailing' a businessman and 'extorting' Rs 2.77 crore by threatening to release his intimate photographs and videos.

According to the police, the accused subjected the businessman to sustained extortion over a period of nearly two years. The scheme allegedly began when Jitesh demanded Rs 35 lakh from the victim, threatening to make public intimate photographs and videos.

Fearing reputational damage, the businessman issued three cheques, two for Rs 10 lakh each and another for Rs 15 lakh. Investigators said Jitesh succeeded in withdrawing Rs 20 lakh, while the remaining Rs 15 lakh cheque could not be encashed due to insufficient funds in the victim's account. He subsequently visited the businessman's residence and allegedly continued to pressure him for payment. As the demands escalated, the victim approached Nizam Ibrahim, who was employed in his company, seeking assistance. Police alleged that instead of helping the businessman, Nizam became part of the extortion racket.

To intensify pressure on the victim, the accused allegedly staged Jitesh's death as a suicide, creating fear of possible legal complications and public humiliation. Under continuous threats and coercion, the businessman is believed to have paid a total of Rs 2.77 crore over the two-year period. The fraud came to light when the victim unexpectedly spotted Jitesh alive in Mangaluru, despite having been led to believe that he had died. Realising that he had been deceived, the businessman approached Urwa police and lodged a complaint.

A case has been registered at Urwa police station under Sections 308(5) and 351(2) of the BNS. Further investigation is underway. Meanwhile, the Dakshina Kannada district Youth Congress has suspended Nizam Ibrahim from the party's primary membership for alleged anti-party activities and indiscipline. The suspension order was issued by district Youth Congress president Ibrahim Nawaz.

Defaulters' sentence in cheque bounce cases should not exceed 6 months: HC

For each of three instances of failing to pay the fine, man sentenced to three months in jail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka on Tuesday held that the statutory ceiling under Section 65 of IPC (now Section 8 of BNS) unequivocally mandates that imprisonment in default of the payment of fine in cheque bounce cases cannot exceed one-fourth of the maximum substantive sentence of two years prescribed for the offence. Thus, in prosecutions under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, where the maximum substantive punishment extends to two years, the default sentence cannot travel beyond six months, the court added.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order while directing the prison authorities to release the petitioner, a resident of Bellandur in the city. "In the light of the petitioner's demonstrated financial incapacity to satisfy the enormous fine amounts imposed upon him, the acute hardship and destitution suffered by his family during his prolonged incarceration and the principles so luminously enunciated by the Apex Court and the high courts of Delhi and Bombay in the quoted judgments in this order, this court is of the considered view that the petitioner has made out a compelling case for grant of relief," the court observed. The petitioner has suffered convictions in three separate prosecutions and, upon failure to satisfy the fine amounts imposed therein, has been directed by the trial court to undergo default imprisonment of three months in each case.

The petitioner, who has already suffered incarceration for a cumulative period of six months in two of the cases, approached the high court, seeking enlargement from judicial custody, contending that the continued incarceration transgresses the statutory limitations engrafted under criminal jurisprudence.

The counsel for the petitioner contended that the cumulative operation of these sentences amounts to unduly, harsh and excessive punishment, offending the spirit and mandate of Section 65 of the IPC and Section 8(3) of the BNS.

The petitioner was sentenced by the trial court in three cheque bounce cases of a single transaction as he failed to pay the money he obtained in 2017 from a firm, imposing a condition that he was to undergo simple imprisonment for a period of three months for defaulting the payment of fine.

As he failed to pay the fine amount, by way of separate orders passed on May 29, 2025, in all three cases, he was directed to undergo a default sentence of three months simple imprisonment for each offence. Aggrieved, he filed the petition for release from prison.

Allowing the petition, the court clarified the present adjudication concerns only the legality and proportionality of continued incarceration in default of payment of fine and shall not eclipse or dilute the statutory right of the complainant or the state to pursue recovery proceedings in accordance with law.

Mysuru brothers enter US ice hockey team

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

TWO brothers with family roots in Mysuru have made their mark in American ice hockey after earning selection to competitive teams of the Frisco Hockey Association based in Texas. Mayon Machaiah Merianda (15) and his younger brother Krish Machaiah Merianda have secured a place in the team for the summer 2026 season.

The achievement has brought pride to their relatives, friends and well-wishers in Karnataka, where ice hockey remains a relatively uncommon sport. Through years of dedication, training and competitive participation, the two brothers have steadily progressed in one of North America's most demanding team sports. Mayon, a Grade 10 student at Independence High School, Frisco, earned promotion to the Varsity squad following his performances in previous seasons. Krish, who recently completed Grade 8 at Nelson Middle School, secured his place in the Junior Varsity team after consistent performances at the developmental level.

The duo belongs to the Meriyanda family of Kodagu, with their ancestral roots tracing back to the historic Meriyanda Ain Mane. Their family also shares a longstanding association with Mysuru, where their grandmother Sharada Thimmayya resides. Despite growing up in the US, Mayon and Krish continue to maintain close ties with Karnataka through regular visits to Mysuru and Kodagu.

West Asia conflict forces marble traders to look elsewhere for imports

ANUBHAB ROY @ Bengaluru

THE West Asia conflict, which has affected the global economy for months, has significantly impacted India's marble imports. Prominent Bengaluru-based importers cite the closure of the Strait of Hormuz, a critical trade route, as the cause of increased costs.

With the Middle East now becoming an unfeasible source for importing materials, importers have already started looking elsewhere. Sri Lanka, Vietnam, Japan and Australia have emerged as the top sources for Jain. Reddy added that imports from countries in Europe and Asia have already filled in the void left by the Middle East.

"The impact is severe primarily due to disruptions in global supply chains and a sharp rise in ocean freight costs. The Indian stone industry relies mainly on China-based supply chains for many essential raw materials and machinery components. For instance, the resin used in manufacturing quartz stone slabs is largely imported from China, and its prices have nearly doubled due to supply disruptions," said Rishabh Jain, director of international business at Petros Stone LLP.

The impact is severe primarily due to disruptions in global supply chains and a sharp rise in ocean freight costs. The Indian stone industry relies on Chinese supply chains—Rishabh Jain, Petros Stones

Jain added that before the conflict began, "the freight cost for a stone container was approximately USD 500. It has now increased to nearly USD 5,000".

For Anand Reddy MG, the founder and CEO of HMG Stones, however, the closure of the strait did not affect imports as much. "For the materials that are shipped from the Middle East, like marble, travertine and onyx from Oman, Iran, Afghanistan and the United Arab Emirates (UAE), the closure has affected business. But for materials from other parts of the world, we use the Suez Canal and Africa's Cape of Good Hope as trade routes," Reddy said.

CMRL-EXALOGIC CASE: ED SUMMONS EX-CM VIJAYAN'S DAUGHTER

Summonses issued to 9 people as part of ongoing money-laundering probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) has issued summons to Veena T, daughter of former chief minister Pinarayi Vijayan, in connection with the CMRL-Exalogic financial transactions case, directing her to appear for questioning at its Kochi office on Friday.

Sources said summons were issued to a total of nine people as part of the ongoing money-laundering investigation. Earlier, the ED had questioned Veena during searches conducted in connection with the case. Sources said the agency was not satisfied with the clarity of some of the responses provided at that time. This is the first time that the central agency has formally summoned Veena for questioning.

Apart from Veena, summons have also been sent to Saran S Kartha, son of businessman Shasidharan Kartha, and several officials of Cochin Minerals and Rutile Ltd (CMRL).

The latest development comes amid the ED intensifying its probe following a high-level review meeting held in Kochi last week that was chaired by its director Rahul Navin. According to sources, the meeting evaluated the evidence and information gathered so far in the case, including materials related to Veena. The director is learnt to have instructed officials to expedite further investigative steps.

The ED's move also follows recent legal developments that strengthened the agency's case. The High Court had last week dismissed CMRL's appeal seeking to halt the ED investigation. The court clarified that the ED could continue its probe.

The ED had on Saturday approached the special court dealing with corporate crimes seeking records, including agreements between CMRL and Exalogic, as part of its ongoing money laundering probe. The Serious Fraud Investigation Office (SFIO), which had earlier seized the documents, informed the court that it had no objection to sharing them with the ED.

The court on Monday allowed the ED's application seeking access to the records, including 134 documents attached to the SFIO report. Rejecting CMRL's objections against sharing the documents, the court accepted the ED's argument that the records were crucial for the investigation and questioning of those involved. Sources said the investigation team believes the newly accessed documents have helped build foolproof case.

VIZAG STEEL BLAST

Trapped gases triggered tragedy: Probe

USHA PERI @ Visakhapatnam

A preliminary investigation by the Department of Factories has indicated that the explosion at Rashtriya Ispat Nigam Limited (RINL) Visakhapatnam Steel Plant (VSP) might have been caused by the sudden release of entrapped gases in molten steel, triggering a powerful blast.

According to the preliminary report prepared by the Joint Chief Inspector of Factories, the accident occurred around 4.15 pm at Continuous Casting Machine-2 in Steel Melting Shop-1 (SMS-1) during casting operations.

The report stated that a full ladle carrying molten steel had been rotated and positioned for casting. However, before the slide gate could be opened to transfer the molten metal, a sudden and severe explosion occurred. The force of the blast was so intense that investigators were initially unable to determine whether the explosion originated from the ladle or the tundish. "A worker stationed at Machine-4 reportedly witnessed flames reaching the ceiling immediately after the explosion. The workers positioned near Machine-2 bore the brunt of the impact," it noted.

Andhra Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Pawan Kalyan visits the accident site at the Rashtriya Ispat Nigam Ltd on Tuesday | PTI

The report identifies the "sudden release of entrapped gases in the liquid steel" as the anticipated cause of the incident. In steelmaking, gases such as oxygen, hydrogen and nitrogen can remain trapped within molten metal. If these gases accumulate and are suddenly released under certain conditions, they can create intense pressure, potentially leading to violent eruptions or explosions.

Meanwhile, a three-member high-level committee constituted by the Ministry of Steel has begun its investigation. The committee comprising Priya Ranjan, Director-in-Charge, Bokaro Steel Plant, Steel Authority of India Limited (SAIL); Jitendra Kumar, Chief General Manager, SAIL; and Gopal Singh, former Chief General Manager, SAIL, arrived in Visakhapatnam on Tuesday to conduct a detailed inquiry into the circumstances that led to the accident at SMS-1, which claimed several lives and injuring others.

Employees also alleged that a molten metal-related incident occurred at Steel Melting Shop-2 (SMS-2) 15 to 20 minutes before the fatal accident at SMS-1. While no injuries were reported in the earlier incident, a vehicle was damaged after molten material spilled during operations.

According to workers with experience in the steel melting division, minor molten metal explosions, spillages and equipment-related incidents have occurred intermittently over the past few years, though most did not result in fatalities.

WHEN the video of the sexual assault went viral in the village, the survivor filed a complaint at the Basavapattana police station, naming the accused. All of them were picked up by the police in swift action. The accused have been identified as Chataki Nagaraj, Istri Nagaraj, Madhu, Arjun, Basavantha, Kunduru Maruthi, Manu, Jogi Sunil, Pradeep and the minor boy of Channagiri taluk.

Superintendent of Police Shekhar HT told TNIE, "An incident of a gang rape of a middle-aged woman by a group of 10 people, including a minor boy, was reported from the Basavapattana police limits. The victim has alleged in the complaint that when she was standing near a shop on June 3, a boy came near her and offered a lift to her maternal home. He offered her a cold drink and after drinking it, she fell unconscious. Later, she was taken to an isolated place and was gang raped."

He said, "After the photo of the gang rape went viral in the village on June 8, the woman came to the police station with her relative and filed a complaint at around 12.30 am on June 9. The police intensified the investigation and arrested all the ten people, including the minor. They were produced before court and sent to judicial custody." As the accused deleted the video of the incident, a destruction of evidence case too has been filed against them.

Heavy rain batters parts of Kerala

AGENCIES @T'puram

HEAVY rains accompanied by strong winds lashed several parts of Kerala on Tuesday, particularly in the northern districts, leading to widespread waterlogging and prompting precautionary evacuation measures in some areas.

The southwest monsoon remained active over the state, with intense overnight rainfall affecting both urban and high-range regions of Kozhikode district. Television visuals showed inundated roads and waterlogging in parts of Kozhikode city, including the beach road area, disrupting normal life and affecting several eateries operating in the locality.

In Thrissur district, authorities shifted five families from the Areshwaram area in Mattathur village panchayat to a relief camp opened at a local government school, following concerns over a possible landslide in the region. Sudden strong winds caused widespread damage in parts of Thrissur district in the morning, uprooting trees and damaging vehicles, local people said. The whirlwind struck areas including Vilvattom, Nadathara and Poochatty by around 8.45 am. The uprooted trees fell onto the parking area of a local school, damaging several vehicles there, local people said. Students arriving to the school at the time had a narrow escape, they added.

BEYOND BORDER IMPASSE: RESHAPED INDIA-NEPAL TIES AUGUR WELL FOR REGION

NEPAL'S Foreign Minister Shishir Khanal used his latest visit to New Delhi to send a clear message—though the longstanding border dispute between the neighbours, including disagreements over the Kalapani-Lipulekh-Limpiyadhura stretch, will remain on the bilateral agenda, they need not define the future of India-Nepal relations. Clarifying recent remarks by Prime Minister Balendra Shah that had sparked speculation about third-party involvement in the territorial dispute, Khanal reiterated that Kathmandu remains committed to resolving the issue through established bilateral mechanisms. Nepal's engagement with the UK, he said, is aimed at accessing historical records that could support its claims, not to invite external mediation.

The clarification comes at a time when both sides appear keen to preserve momentum in a civilisational relationship increasingly shaped by economic integration and connectivity. The border dispute resurfaced after the resumption of the Kailash-Mansarovar yatra through Lipulekh Pass. Yet neither side has allowed the issue to overshadow the wider engagement. More significant than the clarification itself was what it revealed about Nepal's new political leadership. The Rastriya Swatantra Party, which emerged as the dominant force following the recent elections, has sought to project itself as representing a generation focused on governance reform, economic transformation and institutional renewal. It has signalled a desire to broaden the conversation with India, repeatedly describing New Delhi as Nepal's "most important partner".

That reflects the reality of a relationship whose foundations run far deeper than periodic political disagreements. India and Nepal share an open border, extensive people-to-people ties, growing trade and investment flows and cooperation across energy, infrastructure, security and connectivity. Newer areas such as digital payments, cross-border energy trade and logistics networks are becoming increasingly important pillars of the engagement. The launch of cross-border peer-to-peer digital payments, announced during Khanal's meetings with External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, offers a glimpse of this evolving agenda. It signals a relationship moving beyond traditional frameworks towards greater economic and technological integration.

The test for both governments is not whether every dispute can be resolved quickly, but whether differences can be managed without derailing a relationship of growing strategic and economic importance. Upcoming high-level exchanges, including a potential visit by Prime Minister Balendra Shah, could help build that momentum. The future of India-Nepal ties will ultimately be shaped less by unresolved border issues than by the ability of both sides to expand cooperation despite them.

RATE RISE DOESN'T ADDRESS AFFORDABLE HOUSING NEED

A Revanth Reddy has stirred controversy by claiming that the Hyderabad Disaster Response and Asset Protection Agency or HYDRAA, which is tasked with taking down unauthorised structures, drew its name from German dictator Adolf Hitler's "fondness for the word Hydra". However, it's another recent action by his administration that will have a far more consequential impact on the state's real estate sector.

Last week, the Telangana government raised land rates across the state based on geographical demand, among other things. It undertook the revision, last done in 2021-22, based on a report by economist Arvind Subramanian. This time, the government shook up the basic minimum construction values for reinforced cement concrete and non-RCC structures. As a result, the government expects to gain at least ₹1,400 crore in annual revenues as housing becomes costlier. Critics say that the decision at this juncture, when the sector is facing headwinds, is mistimed as even the existing inventory of built houses might take a couple of years to be sold and raw material costs are set to rise. It is a sound argument, but does not take into account the ground reality.

The state's real estate sector has been facing a growing dichotomy, particularly in the capital Hyderabad. On the city's west, premium high-rises and villas dominate the landscape, while the other sides present a much more modest reality. This split picture represents a divide in which the middle class is unable to buy housing within the city limits. The focus on expensive buildings has driven up land costs as the sector has been viewed as a cash cow by builders and successive governments. The result is that even in the capital's west, the unsold inventory could be worth as much as ₹1 lakh crore. It's in this backdrop that the government's revaluation is seen as a setback.

At the same time, the gap between the market and government rates was so wide that a revision was long overdue. Though lower registration fees mean savings for the buyer, it also represents the breach in which black money proliferates. So, apart from fund mobilisation, this is also an exercise in squeezing out dirty money. But in the middle, the fundamental question of affordable housing is yet to be addressed. If the government does not take further steps to address the speculative bubble that has built up, it will likely burst one day soon.

QUICK TAKE

SPIRIT OF GAUDÍ

ON the day the Pope is blessing the latest steeple of the art nouveau masterpiece that is Barcelona's Sagrada Família basilica, we must remember the visionary whose death centenary was chosen as the date for consecration. Antoni Gaudí, who took over as the project's lead architect in 1883, exemplified the aesthetic urbanism sweeping through Europe at the time. Like Georges-Eugène Haussmann in Paris before him, Gaudí embodied the idea that everything in a city—including street lamps and garbage bins—could belong to a fine guiding style. Even if not at the same level of obsessive detailing, Indian leaders must stop the country's cities on their march towards exceeding levels of unsightliness and hand urban planning back to talented architects. What was the last public structure we built that's the envy of the world?

India must use the agricultural crisis brought about by the Gulf war to reassess policies and plan better for the future. We need to address the sector's high dependence on imported inputs

OF all the sectors of the Indian economy affected by the Gulf war, agriculture, which employs more than two-fifths of the population, is the most vulnerable, as it also underpins exports and other industries. The sector has shown resilience to grow by 3-5 percent in recent years while its share of the GDP declined to 18 percent. Yet its contribution to the nation's gross value added output increased from 24.38 percent in 2015 to 30.23 percent in 2023. So, when agriculture has a bad year, GDP growth falters. That is why the exacerbated uncertainty the sector currently faces deserves a closer scrutiny.

The biggest impact of the West Asian conflict on India's primary sector involves shortages of compressed natural gas, LPG, petrol and diesel. This has led to inflation and hardships, especially for low- and middle-income families. Within these groups, farmers are the hardest hit because the cost of their production has risen even as the efficiency of their output is in question. The muted overall inflationary impact of it all probably highlights the outdated methods used to calculate inflation, rather than the ground reality.

It's now clear fuel and fertiliser shortages will directly hinder agricultural growth, which has stayed around 4 percent—significantly below the 9 percent target needed to double farmers' incomes. Since the start of the year, the cost of diesel used in tractors, irrigation and machinery has risen. The crude crisis has also disrupted fertiliser production, causing shortages of urea and anhydrous ammonia. Prices have jumped and some regions are reporting shortages.

While the transport sector that carries agricultural produce accounts for around 70 percent of India's annual fuel demand, agriculture accounts for about 15 percent. Oil is also crucial for the 33 urea plants in the country that produce approximately 269 lakh metric tonnes a year, an output supplemented by imports of about 70 LMT. For potash, India relies on imports of around 80 LMT annually from Canada, Belarus and Russia.

For domestic urea production, which accounts for about 29 percent of the total, India mainly relies on natural gas. More than half of this gas is imported, mainly from Qatar, the UAE and Oman. Reliance on imports is even higher for other fertilisers such as diammonium phosphate (DAP), muriate of potash (MOP) and other complex fertilisers due to limited domestic reserves of raw materials. Additionally, India imports merchant ammonia for DAP and complex fertilisers from Oman, Saudi Arabia and Qatar. Rather than depending on only a few suppliers, we should have diversified supplies to reduce the risk from disruption. This highlights India's fragile dependence on other countries—a list that also includes the US, Russia, Saudi Arabia and Iraq—for agriculture.

Diesel and petrol shortages now threaten to affect the kharif output, particularly of food grains, fruits and vegetables. At the same time, our agricultural exports remain vital for farming communities, particularly in fresh produce, flowers and processed foods. The measures needed to protect that segment include ensuring stability in the forex rates in the short term and exploring new export markets.

India exported $747 million of rice and $51 million of tea to Iran in 2025. Understandably, exports there are now delayed or cancelled. Basmati rice exports decreased by 7 percent in early 2026 as Gulf buyers hesitated to enter new deals due to the rising shipping insurance and freight costs. Other impacted commodities include wheat, turmeric, cumin, sugar, groundnut and chickpeas. All of this will lead to reduced farmer incomes. In turn, falling rural incomes may weaken demand for consumer goods, causing rippling effects throughout the economy.

There are several policy change suggestions that need urgent attention. Both the state and Union governments should lower fuel taxes further and shift revenues to other sources such as road tax. Broadening the import base for oil and fertilisers can mitigate the risks associated with reliance on fewer than 10 suppliers. Fostering competition among suppliers will help, especially given India's large demand.

The input diversification options include importing LNG from the US, Australia, Angola and Cameroon, as well as ammonia from Indonesia, Malaysia and China. Though government reforms have driven total domestic fertiliser production from 385.39 LMT in 2014-15 to 503.35 LMT in 2023-24, substantial improvement is still needed. Urea production units are currently operating at only 60 percent capacity on average, a rate that must be increased.

In fertilisers, it is crucial to base import planning on more precise demand forecasting to ensure effective distribution. We should move away from the ineffective cover-all subsidy scheme and shift towards direct benefit transfers to farmers' bank accounts, along with the popular PM Kisan Samman Nidhi scheme. India, the second-largest consumer of fertilisers, should focus on increasing DAP and MOP production, as their dependency is especially high.

Subsidised fertilisers should be supplied in fixed, landholding-based quantities. Urea should be integrated into the nutrient-based subsidy scheme without rate differentials to prevent overuse of any single fertiliser. Investing globally in fertiliser companies can facilitate purchase agreements. It is vital to allocate funds for building relationships with fertiliser producers in select countries and to secure long-term supply contracts.

Even beyond this, several critical constraints need policy interventions. Climate change and unpredictable weather threaten vulnerable regions, emphasising the need for effective mapping and planning. Although India receives sufficient rainfall for agriculture in most years, its uneven distribution and variability pose challenges. Water-scarce areas need targeted assistance. The Indian Council of Agricultural Research and the National Rainfed Area Authority have identified regions requiring support to help farmers maintain their livelihoods.

Income fluctuations often lead farmers into debt traps and financial hardships, prompting many to seek non-agricultural jobs in cities, thus underlining the importance of rural-urban migration. Limited market infrastructure further restricts farmers' earning potential. Even if the Gulf crisis is resolved smoothly, vigilance is essential. We can see this year as a rare opportunity to reassess our agricultural policies amid a raging crisis.

BUCKING TRENDS IN KARNATAKA

SANDEEP SHASTRI
Vice President, Nitte (Deemed) University, Bengaluru, and co-author of Indian Youth in a Transforming World

FINALLY, the much-debated change of guard in Karnataka was taken forward by the Congress's central leadership and the state has a new Chief Minister. For the past few months, it was becoming increasingly clear that D K Shivakumar taking over was not an 'if' but a 'when' question.

While it is true that in the past, similar promised transitions in Congress regimes had not been carried forward in Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh, the Karnataka case seemed different. Shivakumar has been a key strategist for the Congress and a party loyalist close to the central leadership. It was also increasingly clear that outgoing CM Siddaramaiah, in his second term, would not lead the party in the 2028 Assembly polls. A new leader needs at least two years to establish himself in the position and take the campaign forward.

The leadership change has wider implications for the state's politics, the Congress's internal dynamics as well as the strategy of the leading opposition party, the BJP. Interestingly, in all this commotion over the past few weeks, very little was heard about the distant third player in state politics—the Janata Dal (Secular), a part of the NDA whose leader, H D Deve Gowda, would no longer be in Parliament three decades after relinquishing the post of the Prime Minister.

DKS's takeover was not without its share of political drama. In the run-up, both the outgoing CM and the successor consistently maintained that a change of guard would be decided by the Congress's central leadership. When the final action began, Siddaramaiah kept asserting that he had been asked to step down and was thus making way. He did not accept the offer to move to national politics. Being an influential OBC leader who had the longest chief ministerial tenure in the state, the party's central leadership was keen to placate him. His son was made a minister, as were some key followers.

As is already evident, the real challenge for the new CM lies in expanding his ministry. Most of the 135 Congress MLAs (save Siddaramaiah) see themselves as potential ministers in the DKS ministry. Fourteen slots are filled and another 20 remain. The new government's stability and capacity to take forward governance would rest on providing appropriate 'political accommodation' to its aspiring legislators and managing dissent.

The social coalitions that political parties have built up in Karnataka have played a key role in their success. For the Congress, the 2023 Assembly victory was on account of a rainbow coalition that included carving away a slice of the Lingayat vote from the BJP, strengthening its support among the Vokkaligas in Old Mysore, retaining support among the non-dominant OBCs and strengthening its base among Dalits and minorities.

EXPRESS

> As the political ground shifts in Karnataka following the change of guard, all parties are looking at avoiding past follies. For the new CM, it's about managing aspirations and keeping governance promises. For the NDA, it's about seeing value in keeping the alliance going Siddaramaiah's chief ministership in 2023 was, among other things, a recognition of the non-dominant OBCs he represented. On the other hand, the new CM hails from the dominant Vokkaliga caste, indicating a clear attempt at social balancing. The new state Congress president is from the non-dominant OBCs and the Deputy CM is a Dalit. Both the non-dominant OBC ministers hail from the Kuruba (shepherd) community, to which Siddarmaiah belongs. So the next expansion would need to cater to the wider rainbow coalition the party hopes to sustain.

The new CM will surely be a man in a hurry. He will need to work on the five guarantees implemented. He has already extended the free bus travel concession to students, but will need a relook at the way some of the guarantees have been implemented. As the minister for Bengaluru in the Siddaramaiah government, DKS had promised several initiatives that he would now want to take forward too. The Bengaluru development portfolio has been passed to the capable hands of Krishna Byre Gowda.

Past changes of guard in Congress governments in Karnataka (1989-1994) were accompanied by a drift in governance. The party would expect its new CM to ensure this does not repeat. Also, after 1985, Karnataka has never seen a ruling party win consecutive majorities in the Assembly. The new CM will want to reverse that trend.

Meanwhile, the BJP has its fair share of challenges. Factionalism within the state unit is patently visible. This has prevented the party from launching a unified attack on the government. Its alliance with the JD(S) for the 2024 Lok Sabha elections was stitched to ensure a unified fight against the Congress. The BJP contested as many seats as it had won from the state in 2019, as it had to leave three seats to the JD(S). But Assembly elections involve different political calculations. The BJP has never won a majority by itself in the state, which it will hope to do this time. Yet, any alliance with the JD(S) would require them to share a significant chunk of seats.

There are already murmurs on both sides on whether an alliance is feasible for the Assembly election. Deve Gowda's absence in the Rajya Sabha may be one indication of the emerging trends. Further, the new CM has already spoken of consolidating his electoral base in the Vokkaliga heartland. The JD(S), whose presence is largely in the same Old Mysore region, thus faces a stiff challenge.

It's sure that Karnataka is in for two interesting years of political action. Each passing day is witnessing an interesting twist. While this keeps politics vibrant, citizens will be hoping for a greater focus on governance from the ruling party.

Modi reaffirms support for Kuwait's sovereignty days after an Indian national was killed in an airstrike near airport

PM talks to Kuwait Amir, bats for peace

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday reiterated India's strong condemnation of attacks on Kuwait's sovereignty and territorial integrity during a telephone conversation with Kuwait's Amir, Sheikh Mishal Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah, as tensions continue to escalate across West Asia.

The high-level exchange comes days after an Indian national was reportedly killed in an airstrike near Kuwait airport, highlighting growing concerns over the spillover effects of the regional conflict and the safety of Indian citizens in the Gulf.

According to an official statement issued after the call, the two leaders reviewed the "evolving security situation in West Asia" and exchanged views on the rapidly deteriorating regional environment. "Prime Minister expressed deep concern over the escalation of tensions and reaffirmed India's strong condemnation of attacks on Kuwait's sovereignty and territorial integrity," the statement said.

Modi also reiterated India's longstanding position that dialogue and diplomacy remain the only viable path to resolving the crisis. "The Prime Minister reiterated the call for de-escalation, dialogue and diplomacy for the earliest restoration of peace and stability," the release added.

Safety of Indian diaspora key concern amid hostilities

The conversation highlights New Delhi's increasing diplomatic engagement with Gulf nations as the conflict threatens regional security, energy supplies and the interests of millions of expatriate workers. Kuwait hosts a large Indian diaspora, making their safety a key concern for the Indian government amid the ongoing hostilities.

During the call, Modi thanked the Kuwaiti leadership for its continued support to the Indian community. "Prime Minister thanked His Highness the Amir for his personal attention to the safety of the large Indian community in Kuwait," the official statement said.

The outreach also reflects India's balancing act in a volatile region where it maintains close ties with multiple stakeholders while consistently advocating restraint and peaceful resolution of disputes.

As the conflict shows little sign of abating, New Delhi has intensified its diplomatic messaging, emphasizing respect for sovereignty, territorial integrity and international law, while closely monitoring the security situation affecting Indian nationals and its energy security across West Asia.

India slams Pakistan over 'police brutality' in PoK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA on Tuesday strongly criticised Pakistan over reports of police action against protesters in Pakistan-Occupied Kashmir (PoK), accusing Islamabad of human rights abuses and urging the international community to hold it accountable.

The remarks came amid reports that more than 20 people were killed and several others injured during police action against protesters in different parts of PoK.

External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said Pakistan was attempting to divert attention from its internal failures and alleged rights violations through misinformation campaigns. "We continue to see in this context, a pattern of fake news and videos emanating from Pakistan. It is a desperate attempt by Pakistan to cover up its own failings and deflect attention away from its human rights abuses," Jaiswal said.

Referring to the reported crackdown on protesters, he said, "There are reports of severe police brutality in Pakistan Occupied Kashmir in which several protestors have been killed and many injured. We hope the international community will hold Pakistan accountable for its misdeeds and abuses."

India has repeatedly criticised Pakistan over the situation in PoK, maintaining that Islamabad has failed to address the concerns of the people living in the region. The latest comments come against the backdrop of growing unrest in PoK, where protests have been reported over a range of issues. Pakistan has not yet officially responded to India's remarks.

BSF and BGB to talk on 'undocumented' B'deshi nationals living in India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE issue of undocumented Bangladeshi nationals residing in India may figure prominently during the 57th DG-level Border Coordination Conference between the Border Security Force (BSF) and Border Guard Bangladesh (BGB), which commenced here on Tuesday.

The three-day meeting comes amid heightened bilateral talks over border management and allegations by Bangladesh that India has been sending undocumented persons across the border without following formal deportation procedures.

Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal separately said, "As we have stated earlier, if any foreign national residing in India is doing so illegally, action will be taken in accordance with our laws. Discussions are currently underway between the two sides regarding reports of some people being in no-man's-land, and the matter could come up during the talks."

The BGB delegation is led by Director General Major General Mohammad Ashrafuzzaman Siddiqui. The BSF delegation is headed by Director General Praveen Kumar.

The meeting is taking place against the backdrop of Bangladesh's concerns over alleged "push-ins"—a term used by Dhaka to describe the transfer of undocumented individuals across the border outside established deportation mechanisms. The BSF has, however, rejected allegations of carrying out any such operations, maintaining that those crossing into Bangladesh are its nationals, who should return to their country.

In a post on X, the BSF confirmed the commencement of the Coordination Conference and said the meeting aims to strengthen cooperation and coordination between the two forces.

The conference assumes added significance as it is the first DG-level engagement between the two forces since the formation of a new government in Bangladesh and following BJP's rise to power in West Bengal.

SC flags 40-yr 'extraordinary delay' in murder trial in HC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

VOICING serious concern over the "extraordinary delay" by the Allahabad High Court in deciding a 40-year-old criminal appeal filed by a man convicted of murder, the Supreme Court recently termed this delay "extremely disturbing" and said what could be done to ease the pendency in the HC.

"If a man has to wait 40 years for his appeal to be heard, it defeats the very purpose of filing an appeal," said a two-judge bench of Justices Prashant Kumar Mishra and S Chandurkar.

The bench made these observations against the Allahabad HC, after hearing an appeal filed by the convict, Vijay Singh, seeking immediate direction to the HC for taking up his plea pending for four decades. Singh was convicted by the trial court in 1984 under Section 302 (Murder) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) and sentenced to life imprisonment. He preferred an appeal before the Allahabad High Court the same year, but unfortunately this has been pending since then, and no significant hearing has been conducted so far.

Surprisingly, Singh, now 68, served nearly 17 years in prison before the HC granted him bail in 2000. The appeal has not been heard on merits yet by the HC.

Singh was arrested in November 1983 when he was 28 years old for allegedly shooting his brother dead.

While passing certain directions, the SC kept Singh's Special Leave Petition (SLP) pending and directed the HC to list his criminal appeal for final hearing within three months.

The court, however, made clear it was not faulting any individual judge but stressed that systemic reform was needed.

It had also called the delay disturbing and asked what "innovative measures" could be taken to ease the heavy pendency burdening the Allahabad HC's justice delivery system.

Submit safety report before June 15, airlines told

S LALITHA @ New Delhi

LEADING airlines in India and airport operators have been asked to submit their action-taken report (ATR) on the steps they have initiated to redress the deficiencies on the safety front detected during regular inspections carried out by the aviation regulator, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA).

The airlines have been mandated to submit their ATR before June 15, sources said.

This follows a series of meetings held by the DGCA separately with the Indian airlines, the Bureau of Civil Aviation Security, international airlines and the airport operator. "Such meetings with all stakeholders are set to become a regular affair every quarter. This is being done in order to ensure that airlines internalise safety aspects. A system of compliance needs to be brought in so that air travel would be safe for all," a source aware of the matter said. "The overall objective is to ensure a much safer air travel for all," he added.

Penalties are set to be levied for non-compliance with the safety system. "The regulator conducts inspections on a routine and sudden basis to ensure that the aircraft are in a sound condition. Inspection of the ramp in a plane, the doors, the step ladder and the seats are just a few of them," he said. Inspections are held at various airports too.

On June 1 and 2, the DGCA met with top officials of Spicejet, Akasa Air, IndiGo, Air India and Air India Express. "Meetings with Star Air, Alliance Air, Blue Dart and Fly 91 are set to take place shortly. Meetings with all Flying Training Organisations are scheduled for June 17," said a source.

In May, the regulator held a series of meetings with 80 international airlines operating out of India. "The airlines also had grievances that had to be sorted out. It was held over three days in batches due to the huge number," another source said.

A top official said that airlines would be permitted to continue with the charges levied for booking of seats in planes. The Civil Aviation Ministry had issued an order on March 17 to airlines directing them not to charge passengers a fee for seat selection for 60 per cent of the seats in any flight. Leading airlines objected to it forcing the ministry to roll back its order on April 2. It had then stated that a comprehensive review of the issue would be undertaken.

"With the cancellation of flights to the West Asia and major international destinations by the airlines and the soaring Aviation Turbine Fuel (ATF) prices, it is not possible to implement such an order now as the airlines are reeling under heavy losses," the official added. Airlines charge between ₹150 and ₹3,500 (in case of international flights) for prior seat selection.

On June 1 and 2, DGCA met with top officials of Indian airlines to discuss safety issues. Meetings with all flying training organisations are scheduled for June 17

AI to become cheaper for travellers who opt out of food

Air India has mooted a proposal to let customers opt out of food or snacks when they book a domestic Air India flight. This is largely being viewed as a pro-consumer initiative and the airline plans to launch it on a trial basis on a few short duration flights.

NEHRU AND MODI: A TALE OF TWO PRIME MINISTERS

OPINION

BERJIS DESAI
Author of Modi's Mission

JAWAHARLAL Nehru was sworn in as the country's first democratically elected Prime Minister on May 13, 1952. He remained in office for a period of 4,397 days until his passing on May 27, 1964. For the alert student of constitutional history, on August 15, 1947, Nehru was head only of the interim government responsible to the Constituent Assembly that sat as the provisional Parliament. Today, Narendra Modi transcends Nehru's term in office by completing 4,398 days as Prime Minister.

Modi and Nehru, our longest-standing PMs, are a picture in contrast—diametrically opposite in upbringing, mindset, belief, temperament, style of functioning, value system and political philosophy.

Nehru was attended to by English governesses and Irish tutors along with a retinue of attendants in a 42-room house of his prosperous barrister father, before studying at Harrow, where British aristocrats schooled their children, and Trinity College, Cambridge. He wrote in his autobiography that he had a garden, a tennis court and a swimming pool and a pet pony to ride. His childhood, he wrote, "was sheltered and uneventful".

Narendra, whose father ran a tiny tea shop at a railway station, lived with his five siblings in a dingy house without electricity. He received substandard education in the vernacular and did not have access to radio or newspapers. There was no toothbrush, shower, toilet, or even tap water in Modi's household, which he left at 17 on a personal spiritual journey, never to return.

Jawaharlal, the child, was aghast to watch his father sip imported red claret, which he thought was blood, as he puts it in his autobiography. Narendra, the child, watched his mother clean utensils of others with glass-mixed ash, which often made her fingers bleed.

Nehru's clipped English accent endeared him to the elite, which felt he was one of them. Hyper-conscious of his international image, Nehru perceived the country through the prism of Fabian socialism, which cost the nation dear. He inordinately delayed Kashmir's accession into India, promised a plebiscite, took the matter to the UN, and denied permission to the Indian Army to take over what later permanently became Pakistan Occupied Kashmir. His naïvety in trusting the Chinese resulted in the loss of the strategic Aksai Chin, which he dismissed as 'barren land'. He signed the one-sided Indus Waters Treaty, giving Pakistan 80 percent of the water by volume, and said that he did not understand the fuss over it.

Seventy-two years later, Modi performed the near-impossible constitutional feat of abrogating Kashmir's special status, which was providing a fig leaf to Pakistan's pernicious propaganda. He boldly suspended the IWT. He shaped the military strategy of proactive calibrated response and secured the nation's borders. Yet, a section of the intellectual elite remains allergic to sons of the soil like Modi, who do not speak King's English. A super performer indeed, they concede, but not one of us.

Narendra Modi and Jawaharlal Nehru, our longest-standing Prime Ministers, present sharply contrasting profiles when it comes to their upbringing, mindset, temperament, style of functioning and political philosophy

As generations of bureaucrats have testified, Modi is a brilliant learner on the job. He listens; he is curious; he delves into the minutest detail. He follows up, evaluates, decides. No room exists for those who are underprepared and sloppy.

Details bored Nehru. Temperamental, prone to making emotional decisions, highly opinionated and a mediocre administrator. JRD Tata, who adored him, said that Nehru had no interest in discussing economics, and he would look out of his window at a giant panda playing in the garden.

Nehru adapted Soviet-style five-year plans with emphasis on land reforms, dams and heavy industry without thought as to how the benefits of development will percolate to the ground level. Modi revolutionised a religion-neutral, efficient welfare state to scientifically alleviate poverty—direct cash benefit transfer to the poorest, cooking gas cylinders and water on tap, direct housing assistance, health insurance for the poor, financial inclusion through Jan Dhan bank accounts, cash payments for maternal welfare, sanitation and hygiene, separate toilets for women-the list is endless. Modi rescued the country from an existential crisis during Covid-19 by insisting on the 'whole of government approach' and well-timed lockdown. Nehru was an abstract rationalist ideologue; Modi is an efficient administrator.

A self-confessed atheist, Nehru tried his furious best to prevent President Rajendra Prasad from consecrating the newly-reconstructed Somnath Temple and directed All India Radio to blank out the President's speech on the occasion. In sharp contrast, Modi has actively promoted civilisational resurgence through innumerable cultural projects.

No family. No friends. No vacations. A minimum 16-hour working day. Modi has been relentless on round-the-clock national service for 25 years. Prior to that, he had 30 years as a full-time Sangh pracharak and BJP functionary—that is, a total of 55 years in public service. Yet Modi shows not the slightest sign of fatigue or slowing down.

He says his work ethic keeps him energised. He is grateful to the cosmic for what he calls an "Avirat dhara" (perennial flow) of freshness and vitality he experiences every living second. He is a hard-working global leader with a hands-on approach and mastery of minute details. "Discipline is in my DNA," says Modi.

Gandhiji overruled the choice of Sardar Patel as Congress president—and therefore as PM—by 12 of the 15 party provincial committees, in favour of Nehru; the rest three abstained. Later, Nehru, as the first great Indian dynast, assiduously planned the eventual succession of Indira.

Modi won many elections for the BJP but never sought elected office until, at age 51, he was asked by his party to urgently take over as Gujarat CM. What distinguishes Modi from most other leaders and politicians is his purity of purpose. His objective has never been the pursuit of raw power. Like Gandhi, service and sacrifice are not empty words for Modi.

Narendra Modi will become iconic in the next few decades. The Prime Ministers who will follow him, irrespective of party affiliation, will endeavour to emulate him. For all will be evaluated against Modi's yardstick.

Cong hope to win 1 seat dashed

Meenakashi Natrajan's candidature from MP rejected for hiding information on 2025 notice

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

Congress leaders K C Venugopal, Sachin Pilot, Bhupesh Baghel and Ramesh stage a dharna outside EC office

IN a big jolt to the opposition Congress ahead of the June 18 Rajya Sabha biennial elections for three seats in Madhya Pradesh, the nomination of the party's candidate Meenakshi Natrajan was rejected by the Returning Officer (RO) during scrutiny of nomination papers on Tuesday. The rejection paved the way for the unopposed election of the third BJP candidate, Mahesh Kewat. This means all three ruling party nominees, including Kewat, BJP national general secretary Tarun Chugh and state secretary Rajneesh Agrawal, will be elected to the RS without any contest.

The RO for the June 18 elections and principal secretary (Vidhan Sabha), Arvind Sharma, rejected Natrajan's papers for allegedly concealing in her poll affidavit details relating to a 2025 matter in which the additional chief judicial magistrate in Hyderabad issued her a notice under Section 223 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita while hearing a private complaint filed by an ex-corporator. Natrajan is the AICC incharge for Telangana.

The RO's order came in response to BJP candidate Mahesh Kewat's objection to Natrajan's candidature.

The Congress termed the order unconstitutional. "No case or FIR was registered in Hyderabad against our candidate. The court had only issued a notice to her in response to a private complaint filed against her and others in September 2025. The RO's order is a non-speaking order. The one-sided decision, without mentioning our objections, amounts to theft of a Rajya Sabha seat. It has also come when little time is left for approaching the EC, the MP High Court or the Supreme Court, while the courts are on vacation," Congress legal expert Ajay Gupta said.

RAJYA SABHA POLLS

CM Mohan Yadav, however, said, "Possibly the Congress leaders intentionally concealed the details. They knew their candidate would not be elected."

The day witnessed high political drama in Bhopal. At the Vidhan Sabha premises, BJP candidate Mahesh Kewat, accompanied by a legal team, reached around 2 pm and filed an objection against Natrajan's candidature. The Congress candidate was soon joined by senior leaders, including former chief minister Digvijaya Singh, LoP Umang Singhar, MLAs and supporters, who raised slogans outside the RO's office.

As news spread, BJP leaders, including minister Rakesh Singh, and MLAs, also reached the Vidhan Sabha. A war of slogans followed, prompting police deployment. After nearly four-and-a-half hours, the RO gave his decision.

About 15 km away at Raja Bhoj Airport, a 75-seater chartered plane scheduled to fly more than 40 Congress MLAs to Bengaluru remained stranded for over four hours because of delayed clearance. Another aircraft was scheduled to carry around 20 more MLAs. Airport authorities said clearance was delayed due to technical reasons. By the time permission was granted, news of Natrajan's rejection had reached the airport, leading to cancellation of the trip.

EC to meet Cong delegation today on nomination

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AFTER high drama outside the Election Commission office on Tuesday, the poll panel agreed to meet a Congress delegation on Wednesday to discuss the rejection of party leader Meenakshi Natarajan's nomination for the Rajya Sabha seat from Madhya Pradesh. In a letter to Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge, the EC said the meeting would take place at 12 pm on Wednesday and requested the names of delegation members along with vehicle details via email.

The development came after a delegation led by party general secretary (organisation) K C Venugopal arrived at the EC office seeking an immediate audience over Natarajan's rejected nomination. Venugopal, accompanied by Jairam Ramesh, Bhupesh Baghel and Sachin Pilot, threatened to stage a sit-in protest outside the office.

Pilot said there were no FIRs or chargesheets against Natarajan. "We came here, but we were not allowed to enter despite informing them in writing two hours earlier," he said.

Following the protest, EC officials allowed Venugopal and Ramesh to submit a memorandum to the officials.

Finance ministry draws up 4-pillar economic roadmap for Bengal

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

THE finance ministry is set to undertake a comprehensive review of Centre's flagship schemes in West Bengal as part of a four-pronged strategy focused on financial inclusion, rural banking reforms, infrastructure spending and fiscal oversight, sources said on Tuesday. The move comes weeks after the BJP won elections in the state. West Bengal CM Suvendu Adhikari met Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Monday to discuss the state's development priorities.

The Centre's immediate focus will be on ensuring effective implementation of key flagship programmes, including the Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana, PM Vishwakarma, Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, Ayushman Bharat and Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana, sources said. Officials said these schemes had faced implementation bottlenecks under the previous administration, resulting in lower-than-expected coverage in parts of the state.

The second pillar of the strategy centres on financial integration and banking reforms. The finance ministry plans to increase banking penetration, expand access to formal financial services and strengthen the delivery of welfare schemes through the banking network.

"First, the government aims to bring more banks into the state and ensure they function at full capacity, particularly in implementing flagship welfare programmes. Second, we will undertake a detailed review of Regional Rural Banks to improve rural credit delivery," a senior official said.

The third focus area involves accelerating infra investment through faster utilisation of funds under the Scheme for Special Assistance to States for Capital Investment (SASCI) and clearing pending development-related payments. Under SASCI, the Centre provides 50-year interest-free loans to states for capital expenditure projects aimed at boosting growth and employment.

The fourth pillar will involve close monitoring of credit offtake, state finances and borrowing requirements to ensure fiscal sustainability and efficient utilisation of resources.

Student's video catches CM's attention

A Class 3 tribal girl has ensured much-needed relief for the students of her school battling scorching summer heat. Nikita Basumatary (8) of Bodoland Academy in Baksa district had made an appeal to "Himanta Mama" (CM Himanta Biswa Sarma) through a video message uploaded on Facebook, seeking fans at her school to beat the heat. The CM's office fulfilled the child's request within 24 hours by giving a few fans to the school in coordination with local authorities.

Assam's juicy heritage goes global

The second edition of Tezpur Litchi Festival, held from June 6 to 7, concluded on a high note with the export of 1,000 kgs of this juicy heritage of Assam to Dubai and 600 kgs to Singapore. Tezpur Litchi, widely known for its excellent quality and flavour, was granted a GI tag in 2015. The festival drew hundreds of people. Legend has it that litterateur Padmanath Gohain Baruah—during the time when he was the chairman of Tezpur Municipal Board—had planted the first litchi saplings on the banks of the 'Paltanpukhuri', an area where a military regiment used to be garrisoned. Grown over 250 bighas, the Tezpur litchi is considered a prized fruit.

Pygmy hogs return to Manas after 9 years

Fifteen captive-bred pygmy hogs were released into the Kuribeel grasslands of the park in lower Assam by the Pygmy Hog Conservation Programme (PHPC). The PHCP has plans to release around 80 pygmy hogs over the next five years. "The reintroduction of the endangered pygmy hogs in Manas National Park is a remarkable conservation achievement," said Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (Wildlife) and Chief Wildlife Warden of Assam Dr Vinay Gupta.

2-finger test for rape survivors banned, says HC

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

IN a landmark judgement towards strengthening the protection and rehabilitation of rape survivors, the Jharkhand High Court has directed the state government to ensure complete prohibition of the controversial two-finger test in all hospitals, holding that it violates privacy, bodily integrity and dignity of rape survivors.

A division bench of Chief Justice M S Sonak and Justice Rajesh Shankar passed the direction while hearing a suo-motu PIL in connection with the protection and rehabilitation of rape survivors. "The Department of Home, Jail & Disaster Management, Government of Jharkhand, is directed to issue a circular prohibiting the "two-finger test" in all medical institutions," stated the order.

Any violation of the circular would be professional misconduct, and the person responsible would be dealt with in accordance with the law, it added. The court also issued directions to the state government, including mandatory registration of Zero FIRs and steps to ensure support for children born out of rape.

Swiss woman among two foreign nationals arrested along Indo-Nepal border

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

'Both foreigners didn't have travel documents'

SHO Kishan Paswan of Haraiya police station said the two foreigners did not possess valid travel documents. Entering India without a visa or passport is a violation of the Foreigners Act, and both were arrested.

TWO foreign nationals, a Swiss woman and a Myanmarese man, were arrested in Raxaul near the India-Nepal border in Bihar's East Champaran district on Tuesday.

Police found the duo moving near Custom Chowk during a routine check and took them into custody.

Their identities have not been disclosed and the police said neither could clearly explain the purpose of the visit or the route used to enter India.

SHO Kishan Paswan of Haraiya police station said the two foreigners did not possess valid travel documents. Entering India without a visa or passport is a violation of the Foreigners Act, and both were arrested.

Police have completed legal formalities and are investigating whether the pair entered India through Nepal or another border point.

Intelligence agencies have been informed, and inputs are being sought from the SSB and the immigration department. As the India-Nepal border is porous, undocumented cross-border movement is frequently reported. Following the arrests, the SSB has intensified vigilance.

In September last year, five foreign nationals, including four Sudanese citizens and one Bolivian, were arrested from the same area. Separately, 11 other foreign nationals, including four Chinese citizens and one reportedly linked to the Khalistani movement, were detained while attempting to enter India from Nepal without documents.

'BJP increasingly becoming preferred choice of voters'

BJP general secretary and Rajya Sabha nominee Tarun Chugh is confident that his party is well-positioned to bring about a decisive political transformation in Punjab. In an interview with Rajesh Kumar Thakur, he drew parallels with West Bengal, arguing that Punjab faces serious challenges in governance, law and order, drug abuse, and national security that require the BJP's strong and stable leadership. Excerpts:

How prepared is the BJP for the upcoming Assembly elections in Punjab?

We have been actively involved in Punjab's politics and public life since 1952. Our support base has steadily expanded, with our vote share increasing to 19 percent in 2024. This time, we are preparing vigorously across all 117 Assembly constituencies.

PM Narendra Modi enjoys considerable goodwill in Punjab. Under his leadership, significant infrastructure projects, including roads, educational institutions, and heritage development initiatives, have been undertaken in the state.

The current AAP government has failed to deliver on many of its promises. The BJP intends to bring meaningful change in education, agriculture and healthcare.

What will be the key electoral issues in Punjab?

The two most pressing concerns are drug abuse and the deterioration of law and order. Punjab possesses immense potential for religious and historical tourism.

Security concerns also cannot be ignored. There have been multiple attacks near police establishments over the past two years. According to agencies, many of these incidents have been linked to forces operating from across the border.

Between 2022 and 2024, we performed well in municipal, panchayat and district-level elections. Public support for the BJP is growing steadily because people want peace, stability and prosperity.

Do you see similarities between Bengal and Punjab from an electoral and governance perspective?

Both states have experienced the historical consequences of Partition and share sensitive international borders. Punjab faces challenges arising from cross-border terrorism and drug trafficking, while West Bengal confronts its own border-related issues. Both are strategically important states, and effective governance is essential for their development as well as for India's broader national security interests.

Q&A

Why has BJP found South India more challenging?

The BJP is steadily expanding its presence across southern India. We have made significant gains in Andhra Pradesh, strengthened our position in Telangana and remain a major force in Karnataka. Our footprint in Tamil Nadu is also growing, while we are part of the governing arrangement in Puducherry.

Ex-Armyman with drug links dies after fall in Guj

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

WHAT started as a late-night dispute between neighbours in Ahmedabad's Bopal area turned into a high-voltage crime drama, ending with the death of a man whose criminal past had attracted the attention of police.

The deceased, Mahavir Singh Sindhav, had recently shifted to a flat in Bopal. Police said Sindhav was heavily intoxicated on Monday night when he picked a fight with residents living in another block of the society. The altercation soon spiralled into violence, forcing frightened locals to call police.

As word spread that police personnel had reached the spot, Sindhav allegedly tried to escape. His fell from the fourth floor. died on the spot. "According to primary investigation and eyewitnesses' statements, Sindhav was running away after learning that the police had arrived. During the escape attempt, he slipped and fell on his own, leading to his death. An accidental death case has been registered," police inspector Sunil Chaudhary said.

The death has brought Sindhav's controversial past back into focus. Police records indicate that serious criminal cases had been registered against him at different police stations. Before entering the world of crime, Sindhav had reportedly served as a supply soldier in the Army.

His name had surfaced during a major drug bust in 2023 in which three Rajasthan natives were arrested from a flat in Surendranagar and narcotics worth ₹17.81 lakh was seized.

The Iranian link to Zoji La tunnel

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE strategically important 13.150 km long Zojila tunnel, which is the world's longest single-tube bi-directional road tunnel at an altitude of 11,500 ft and will provide all-weather connectivity to Ladakh, achieved a historic breakthrough on Tuesday.

Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways Nitin Gadkari triggered the final breakthrough blast near the eastern portal at Minimarg in Ladakh through a remote-control system, linking both ends of the tunnel. Jammu and Kashmir L-G Manoj Sinha and CM Omar Abdullah were present during the event.

Gadkari said, "This breakthrough in the main tunnel is not just a sign of progress in construction but also a testament to India's technical prowess, engineering capabilities, and indomitable resolve."

He noted that despite heavy snowfall, harsh weather conditions and complex geological challenges, Indian engineers and workers have successfully transformed the challenging task into reality.

The strategically located tunnel on the Srinagar-Leh National Highway will provide all-weather connectivity to Ladakh, which remains cut off during winters due to heavy snowfall. With completion of the tunnel, the 2-hour journey from Sonamarg to Minamarg will be reduced to just 30 minutes.

The project also has an Iranian connection.The Iranian engineer Yousuf Es'haghpour Rahimabadi is the authority engineer for the Zojila tunnel, which will provide all-weather connectivity between Ladakh and the rest of the country.

"Our job is supervision, making the design and drawing; supervising and correcting; commenting; and designing and checking the design drawing. We also monitor each and every activity of the contractor inside the tunnel," said Yousuf, who has been working on the iconic project since January 2022.

DELIMITATION BILL

Spl session possible if govt has the numbers

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE ruling NDA government is open to reworking the delimitation bill to specify upfront that Lok Sabha seats across all states would be uniformly raised by 50%, if it were to muster two-thirds majority for the passage of the legislation.

It could even call a special session of Parliament — ahead of the Monsoon session, which is slated to begin in the second week of July — if it is confident of the numbers game.

An oral assurance on the 50% formula was made by Union home minister Amit Shah during the previous session of Parliament, but the Opposition was not convinced and the bill was defeated in the Lok Sabha on April 17.

"If we get the required majority in the House, we would convey the special session of Parliament to pass the delimitation bill," a senior BJP leader said. The proposed legislation is otherwise sound and the legal framework would remain intact, the leader added.

"A uniform 50% increase would raise the LS seat count from 543 to about 815. So, the current cap of 550 seats was raised to 850," a top source said. When the bill fell on April 17, the NDA was short of 54 votes — 298 ayes against the required 352 — out of 528 members present and voting. It already has 20 TMC rebels in the bag and is scouting for more, including from the South.

Cheers as court axes Don's $1L H-1B fee, labels it a 'tax'

WASHINGTON

US lawmakers, state attorneys general and Indian diaspora organisations welcomed a federal court order striking down Donald Trump's USD 100,000 fee on new H-1B visa applications, saying the move would ease staffing shortages in healthcare and education and restore fairness to the immigration system. The reaction came after US District Judge Leo Sorokin struck down the fee, ruling that the policy imposed a "tax" on H-1B petitions without the requisite delegation by Congress.

Sorokin sided with California and 19 other states, concluding that the executive branch exceeded its authority and violated the Administrative Procedure Act. The administration had announced the much-higher fee as a way of preventing foreign workers from taking American jobs.

Republican Senator Lisa Murkowski said school districts in rural Alaska relied on the H-1B programme to bring quality teachers to their communities, while Republican Congressman Mike Lawler said he was pushing legislation to exempt healthcare workers from the fee.

Democratic lawmakers Don Beyer and Sanford Bishop Jr welcomed the ruling, saying the charge would have worsened staffing shortages and discouraged skilled workers from coming to the United States.

California Attorney General Rob Bonta, who led the multi-state coalition that filed the lawsuit, said "this tax" was an attack on America's ability to attract and retain high-skilled talent. Massachusetts Attorney General Andrea Joy Campbell said the decision would help address labour shortages in education, healthcare and medical research.

Indian diaspora groups also welcomed the order. AFP

TRUMP SLAMS RULING

Donald Trump criticised the court order, saying judges were "giving us a very hard time" and hurting the country. Speaking in New York after watching the NBA Finals, Trump called the judges "really crazy". The White House signalled it would challenge the ruling in an appeals court, with spokesperson Taylor Rogers saying the H-1B programme had been abused for decades and expressing confidence that the order would be reversed.

Israel expands Lebanon offensive, orders residents out of Tyre region

Tehran warns of renewed attacks if strikes continue; 8 killed in Tyre raid

TYRE

LEBANON's health ministry said an Israeli airstrike on Tyre killed at least eight people on Tuesday, with the Israeli military warning the entire city to evacuate shortly after the strike. Lebanon's state-run National News Agency (NNA) reported raids on more than a dozen other locations across the country's south, as Israel pressed on with its war against the militant group Hezbollah.

It is acting despite a warning the day before from Iran that it would resume attacking Israel if it continued striking its neighbour. Tehran insists that Lebanon must be part of any deal to end the wider West Asia war, which Hezbollah dragged Lebanon into on March 2 by attacking Israel in support of its backer Iran.

An AFP correspondent saw residents of Tyre, including from the Christian quarter, fleeing and heavy traffic heading north after the Israeli warning. Another correspondent in the coastal city of Sidon, further north, saw displaced people arriving from Tyre, some with belongings hastily strapped to the roof of their cars.

Israel has repeatedly struck the city of Tyre since the latest war erupted with Hezbollah, following the militants' rocket fire at Israel on March 2 to avenge the killing of Iran's supreme leader.

WAR WATCH

But until Tuesday, Tyre's Christian quarter in the Old City — a small, picturesque area where displaced people had also sought refuge — had been spared Israeli evacuation warnings targeting the rest of the city in the ongoing war. "Urgent warning to the residents of the city of Tyre, including the Christian quarter, and the camps and surrounding neighbourhoods," the Israeli army warning on X read, referring to several Palestinian refugee camps in the area. "For your safety, we ask you to immediately evacuate your homes... and move north of the Zahrani River."

The Zahrani river is around 30 kilometres north of Tyre. The Israeli army last month declared all areas south of the river "combat zones".

The NNA reported an Israeli strike on Tyre's outskirts before the evacuation notice was issued, and further strikes on the city later in the day after the warning. The health ministry said the pre-warning strike killed at least eight people and wounded 32 others, with rescuers still searching rubble for survivours. Hezbollah, the only Lebanese group that refused to surrender its arsenal after a civil war ended in 1990, has also kept up its attacks on Israeli troops who have invaded south Lebanon. AFP

France bars Israeli minister Smotrich

PARIS: France on Tuesday banned Israeli Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich from entering the country, accusing him of promoting West Bank annexation and the "re-colonisation" of Gaza. Foreign Minister Jean-Noel Barrot also announced sanctions on four settler leaders and 21 violent settlers, coordinated with Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Norway. Smotrich is the second Israeli minister barred by France after National Security Minister Itamar Ben Gvir. Ireland, Spain and Slovenia have also imposed similar restrictions in recent months.

Hezbollah pushes closer Iran ties

BEIRUT: Hezbollah on Tuesday urged Lebanese authorities to repair ties with Iran and make use of Tehran's support, days after Iran struck Israel over attacks on south Beirut. The group criticised recent calls by Lebanon's leaders for Iran to stop interfering and said Tehran's actions showed its commitment to Lebanon. Hezbollah urged Beirut to leverage Iranian backing amid a changing regional landscape, while rejecting US-mediated talks with Israel. Pakistan continued diplomatic efforts to ease regional tensions and boost military cooperation with Lebanon.

Drone rescue after Hormuz crash; Trump says crew safe

DUBAI

A drone boat rescued the crew of a US Army attack helicopter that crashed early on Tuesday near the Strait of Hormuz, the strategic waterway that Iran has effectively closed during its war with the US and Israel, a US military official said.

It was the first known drone rescue at sea by the US military, said Capt Tim Hawkins, a spokesman for US Central Command. He said the unmanned boat located the two aviators and brought them to shore after they spent about two hours in the water.

Military officials have not said what caused the Apache helicopter to go down. A military news release said the crash is under investigation.

US President Donald Trump acknowledged the crash while speaking to journalists in New York on Monday night.

"The pilots are fine. Yeah," Trump said. "Nobody injured." The crash happened about 3.30 am local time on Tuesday off the coast of Oman while the helicopter was on a patrol, US Central Command said. The drone used to perform the rescue was a 24-foot vessel called a Corsair, Hawkins said. It's manufactured by Saronic Technologies.

The drone was assigned to the Navy's Task Force 59, established in 2021 as the Navy's first uncrewed and artificial intelligence unit that focuses on maritime security in the West Asia, including the Strait of Hormuz and the Suez Canal. AH-64 Apache helicopters have been a key asset for the American military as it enforces a blockade on Iranian crude oil shipments and tankers, seeking to pressure Tehran into a deal. AP

Philippines protests Chinese 'structure', fears new island base on disputed shoal

MANILA

THE Philippines has protested China's deployment of what Manila describes as a floating "structure" with personnel on a disputed shoal in the South China Sea, fearing it could be a part of Beijing's effort to turn the uninhabited atoll into an island base, Philippine officials said on Tuesday.

The Department of Foreign Affairs said, without elaborating, that it lodged a protest over China's latest action on the Scarborough Shoal, which was spotted by the Philippine military and coast guard. China dismissed Manila's concern and reiterated that it has "indisputable sovereignty" over the shoal and adjacent waters, without responding or offering any details to the Philippine officials.

"Any activities China conducts on Huangyan Island, including scientific research, are the legitimate rights of a sovereign state," Ministry of Foreign Affairs spokesperson Lin Jian said in Beijing. "China urges the Philippine side to cease maritime infringements and provocations and stop hyping up the issue," he added.

China deployed ships to guard the uninhabited Scarborough in 2012, after weeks of a tense standoff with Philippine ships, prompting Manila to bring its disputes with Beijing to international arbitration, which the Philippines largely won. Citing the 1982 UN Convention on the Law of the Sea, the 2016 arbitration ruling invalidated China's claims to virtually the entire South China Sea. China, however, refused to participate in the arbitration initiated by the Philippines and dismissed the ruling as a sham, claiming it was concocted by the United States with the Philippines.

More than a decade ago, China started transforming disputed and uninhabited reefs into what are now missile-protected island bases — including three with military-grade runways — in the Spratlys archipelago, a fiercely disputed area in the South China Sea.

In the mid-1990s, Chinese forces seized Mischief Reef, one of seven areas, erecting huts on stilts that they said were shelters for fishermen. AP

Xi caps rare North Korea trip with display of unity

SEOUL

CHINESE President Xi Jinping returned home on Tuesday following a rare trip to North Korea that included a bilateral meeting and public appearances with leader Kim Jong Un underscoring a joint push to reestablish the alliance between their countries.

Xi Jinping flew to the capital Pyongyang on Monday in his first visit there in seven years. During their summit later in the day, Xi expressed China's willingness to expand cooperation in a wide range of areas including trade, agriculture, construction and technology, while Kim said the two countries will maintain their friendship as "the most important top-priority strategic work," according to Chinese and North Korean state media reports.

Xi Jinping and Kim Jong Un on Tuesday visited a North Korea-China friendship tower honoring Chinese soldiers who fought alongside North Korea during the 1950-53 Korean War. They stressed the importance of carrying forward the countries' traditional friendship and spirit of resistance against the United States, Chinese state media reported.

The leaders, who last met in Beijing in September, also toured a ruling Workers' Party training school and planted a fir tree symbolising bilateral ties. Xi later attended a luncheon and farewell ceremony before returning to Beijing, Chinese state media said.

Experts say Xi sought to restore China's sway over North Korea as Kim sought benefits in return. State media highlighted deeper ties and Kim's backing of Beijing's Taiwan stance. AP

China protests expanded US firms blacklist

BEIJING: China condemned the US decision to blacklist dozens of Chinese firms, including tech giants Alibaba and Baidu, accusing Washington of abusing national security to suppress Chinese companies. Beijing warned it would take steps to protect their interests. The Pentagon added 80 firms and subsidiaries to a list of companies it says aid the Chinese military. Alibaba, Baidu and electric vehicle maker BYD denied any links and called the move unjustified.

EU proposes visa ban for Russians who served in war

BRUSSELS

THE EU is seeking to impose a visa ban on Russians who fought in Ukraine, as part of a new round of sanctions on Moscow over the war, European Commission chief Ursula von der Leyen said on Tuesday.

The proposed package -- the 21st round to target Russia since its 2022 invasion -- also includes maintaining a price cap on Russian oil and hitting cryptocurrency exchanges used to dodge sanctions.

"Our sanctions keep biting hard and cutting deep. They are weakening the economic foundations of Russia's war effort," von der Leyen said. The EU chief said the aim of the visa ban for fighters was to make sure that "Europe stays off-limits for anyone who has participated in the invasion of Ukraine".

"We propose for the first time to ban entry into the European Union for anyone who has served in the Russian armed forces since the beginning of the war," she said. A key aim of the latest measures is to keep down Russian revenues from its global oil exports as prices have surged due to the West Asia war.

Brussels wants to maintain a price cap on Russian crude at the current level of around $44 until January so the Kremlin cannot take advantage of the leap in prices. "This will give oil markets time to stabilise, while preserving pressure on Russia's revenues," von der Leyen said.

The latest proposals will need to be debated by the EU's 27 member states and need unanimous approval to be adopted. Brussels is also pushing to hit crypto platforms, banks and oil traders helping Moscow to dodge the impact of the sanctions. AFP

No more fiscal support to OMCs: Govt

Centre has extended support of ₹1.23L cr to OMCs by allowing to retain gains from excise duty cut on petrol, diesel

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

THE Centre has extended fiscal support of around ₹1.23 lakh crore to oil marketing companies (OMCs) by allowing them to retain gains from the excise duty cut on petrol and diesel and absorb the impact of elevated crude oil prices for 78 days, senior government sources said on Tuesday.

However, officials indicated that no further fiscal support is likely, and future increases in input costs may have to be passed on to consumers through fuel price revisions.

Amid the impact of the West Asia crisis on global crude oil prices, the government on 27 March reduced the central excise duty on petrol and diesel by ₹10 per litre each. While the duty cut lowered government revenues, OMCs did not correspondingly reduce retail fuel prices, enabling them to offset a portion of their losses. The government also earmarked ₹10,000 crore for OMCs to help stabilise aviation turbine fuel (ATF) prices.

"We provided fiscal support of around ₹1.23 lakh crore to OMCs by enabling them to absorb the impact of higher crude prices for 78 days. However, the companies continue to face under-recoveries, which they will have to recoup through calibrated price increases," a government source said. According to officials, OMC under-recoveries remain elevated at around ₹652 crore per day following the sharp increase in global crude oil and natural gas prices.

The West Asia conflict has disrupted energy supply chains and pushed up crude prices, resulting in major pressure on OMC margins. In response, fuel retailers raised petrol and diesel prices in phases four times last month. Petrol prices have increased cumulatively by ₹7.35 per litre, while diesel prices have risen by ₹7.53 per litre.

Sources clarified that the Centre has not advised state governments to reduce value-added tax (VAT) or sales tax on petrol and diesel to soften the impact on consumers.

The government has maintained that the domestic economy remains broadly resilient despite global uncertainties. However, officials identified three key areas of concern — fertilisers, gold and crude oil — where price pressures continue to pose risks.

ATF prices rise 10% as oil retailers roll out scheme

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

OIL marketing companies (OMCs) have increased the price of aviation turbine fuel (ATF) by 10% while rolling out a price stabilisation regime that offers domestic airlines a fixed fuel rate for up to three years.

The move is aimed at shielding carriers and passengers from swings in global oil prices. As per a report citing sources, with the increase, jet fuel for domestic airlines will cost about ₹115 per litre, up from ₹104.93 per litre. This new rate will be locked in for up to three years for airlines that opt to participate in the government-backed price stabilisation scheme.

Airlines that don't opt for the scheme will continue to pay market-linked prices.

AI AGENTS TO EQUAL WORKFORCE IN 3 YRS: TCS CHIEF

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ @ Bengaluru

TATA Consultancy Services (TCS) chairman N Chandrasekaran said the company could have as many AI agents as human employees over next three years, as the country's largest IT services company expands its artificial intelligence business.

"At TCS, the transformation is underway. In the last quarter of fiscal 2026, TCS had an annualised AI revenues of $2.4 bn, which is growing at a CAGR of 22.4%," Chandrasekaran said during the company's 31st Annual General Meeting.

"I predict that over the next 3 years, TCS will have as many AI agent as human employees," he said

Chandrasekaran said TCS views AI as an opportunity for enterprise IT rather than a threat, despite concerns that AI systems could reduce the need for human involvement in software development and technology operations.

"Far from being a mortal threat, AI is the most significant opportunity yet for enterprise IT," he said. As per him, the global enterprise IT industry, currently valued at about $1.6 trillion, is likely to reach $3 trillion over the next decade as AI expands use of technology across industries. "The global enterprise IT industry, currently worth around $1.6 trillion, is forecast to hit $3 trillion within the next decade, effectively doubling," he said.

Chandrasekaran said businesses are increasing technology spending as AI and that organisations which earlier didn't rely on IT services are now seeking such expertise. "Our market is widening as organisations once unserved by IT services require our expertise for the first time," he said.

22.4% CAGR at which AI revenue of Tata Consultancy Services is growing

He outlined five areas where TCS sees opportunities, including upgrading legacy technology systems, redesigning business processes using AI, managing AI systems inside organisations, building sovereign AI infrastructure and connecting AI with physical assets.

On managing AI systems, Chandrasekaran said overseeing AI agents could become a source of recurring business for technology services firms.

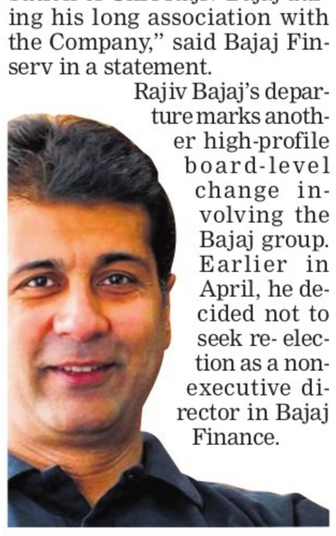
RAJIV BAJAJ, managing director of Bajaj Auto, is stepping down from the board of Bajaj Finserv as he has decided to reduce external commitments and focus on the core automobile business. The decision by Rajiv Bajaj comes in the backdrop of the setting up of Bajaj Auto Technology Ltd. and Bajaj Auto Credit Ltd. as well as the recent acquisition of European two-wheeler company KTM.

"Rajiv Bajaj, non-executive director, has informed the Company that with additional responsibilities at Bajaj Auto Ltd. in recent times, owing to the setting up of Bajaj Auto Technology Ltd. and Bajaj Auto Credit Ltd. as well as the recent acquisition of KTM, he desires to reduce his other commitments," said Bajaj Finserv in a statement.

Accordingly, he has expressed his intention to step down from the Board and has not offered himself for re-election at the ensuing annual general meeting scheduled to be held on 31 July 2026 (AGM). Rajiv Bajaj will cease to be a Director of Bajaj Finserv upon retirement by rotation at the said AGM. "The Board of Directors took note of the above and placed on record its gratitude and appreciation for the valuable contribution of Shri Rajiv Bajaj during his long association with the Company," said Bajaj Finserv in a statement.



Rajiv Bajaj's departure marks another high-profile board-level change involving the Bajaj group. Earlier in April, he decided not to seek re- election as a non-executive director in Bajaj Finance.

Fertiliser Min seeks doubling of subsidy allocation in FY27

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

AMID a sharp rise in global fertiliser prices triggered by the West Asia crisis, the Ministry of Chemicals and Fertilizers has approached the Ministry of Finance seeking to double the fertiliser subsidy allocation for the current financial year, government sources said.

The Union Budget for FY27 had provided ₹1.77 lakh crore towards fertiliser subsidies. However, with global prices rising sharply and supply conditions tightening, the ministry has sought 100% increase in the allocation, according to officials.

"Given the pace at which fertiliser prices are rising, the Fertilizers Ministry has sought a doubling of the subsidy allocation. Supplies are constrained while demand remains strong," a senior finance ministry source familiar with the matter said. Government officials said the subsidy burden on urea has increased significantly, with the subsidy per bag rising from about ₹2,900 to nearly ₹4,500. The rise is putting huge pressure on government finances.

"We can't ask farmers to pay even ₹1 more for fertilisers, and we have little control over global prices. This is creating major stress on fiscal resources," a senior government official said. "Efforts are underway to boost domestic production, which could help ease some of the pressure."

India imports 25% of its fertiliser needs. Domestic fertiliser output rose to 52.5 million tonne in 2025 from 50.95 MT in 2024, but officials said higher output alone may not be sufficient to offset the impact. Government sources indicated that there is no proposal to seek additional funds through a supplementary demand for grants during the upcoming Monsoon Session of Parliament.

Flipkart faces insolvency plea over ₹1.69 cr default

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

E-COMMERCE major Flipkart has been served a notice by the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), Bengaluru, following an insolvency petition filed by its former marketing partner, Applabs Media Pvt Ltd, over alleged unpaid dues of Rs 1.69 crore.

As per the petition filed under Section 9 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), Applabs Media claimed it had entered into a marketing agreement with Flipkart in 2019 to run cost-per-transaction digital campaigns across mobile applications and other online platforms. The company alleged despite rendering services and raising three invoices worth ₹1.69 crore, dues remain unpaid.

To support its claim, Applabs submitted an email dated May 8, 2023, and a reconciliation statement shared on May 15, 2023, which it said acknowledged the outstanding liability. A Bengaluru bench of the NCLT, comprising Justice Mahendra Khandelwal and Radhakrishna Sreepada, has issued a notice to Flipkart seeking its response. The tribunal has not admitted the insolvency petition and has listed the matter for further hearing on July 14, 2026.

Electric engineers to receive highest salary hikes

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ @ Bengaluru

INDIA'S highest salary increases in FY27 are expected to go to engineering roles rather than software developers, according to TeamLease Services' Jobs and Salaries Primer.

The report projected salary increments of 8.6% to 10.2% across industries and showed that electrical engineers are expected to record the highest increase at 11.2%. Quality control inspectors are likely to see 10.9% hike, while project engineers are likely to get 10.7%.

By comparison, associate software engineers are projected to see salary growth of 9.7%. The report said demand for engineering and execution-focused roles was shaping compensation trends.

Besides electrical engineers, quality assurance engineers and site engineers are likley to get salary hikes of 10.2%, while IT support executives are projected to see growth of 10.3%. The report showed high-growth sectors like EV and EV infrastructure, FinTech, healthcare and pharma, power and energy are likely to see salary hikes between 9.6% and 10.2%. TeamLease said the trend reflected sustained demand for engineering roles, along with technical and operational capabilities.

"India's salary landscape in FY27 is becoming more differentiated and execution-led. Increment trends are increasingly being shaped by sector-specific growth and specialised skills," Balasubramanian A, senior vice-president at TeamLease Services, said. He said compensation growth was no longer concentrated in traditional metro markets.

"Emerging cities are steadily strengthening their position in the talent economy, supported by industrial expansion, enterprise investments, and evolving business ecosystems. The overall trend points towards a more balanced and distributed employment market across industries and regions," he said.

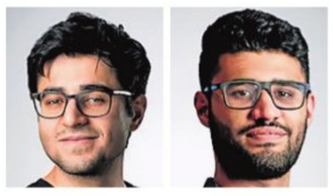
Zepto founders Aadit Palicha, Kaivalya Vohra receive ED summons: IPO docs

PADMINI DHRUVARAJ @ Bengaluru

ZEPTO founders Aadit Palicha and Kaivalya Vohra have received summons from the Directorate of Enforcement seeking information, according to the company's updated draft red herring prospectus filed ahead of its proposed initial public offering.

The company said Palicha and Vohra, who are key managerial personnel, had received summons from the Directorate of Enforcement under the Ministry of Finance. The filing did not provide further details on the matter.

Further, as it prepares for its stock market debut, Zepto also said it plans to use part of the proceeds from the fresh issue to open about 1,904 dark stores.



Aadit Palicha, Kaivalya Vohra

The company said it had expanded its dark store network from 337 stores across 11 cities as of March 31, 2024, to 1,139 stores across 66 cities as of March 31, 2026.

Under its strategy section, Zepto said it plans to continue a densification approach in the country's top 50 cities.

According to the filing, Zepto plans to spend up to ₹16.29 billion on capital expenditure related to the expansion of its dark store network.

"As per the Redseer Report, quick commerce operations are primarily concentrated in high-density urban areas, with expansion into smaller towns and cities with lower population density becoming challenging as these areas are structurally different from the markets in which quick commerce works," it said.

EV sales across categories hit fresh high in May

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

ELECTRIC vehicle (EV) sales surged across categories and reached a record high in May 2026. Data from the Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations (FADA) show EVs accounted for a record 11% of all vehicles retailed, with 271,682 units sold, a 45% YoY increase.

Electric two-wheelers led in volume at 1,70,733 units (+63% YoY), lifting penetration to 9.3% from 6.1%. Electric three-wheelers remain most electrified segment, with 64.4% of all three-wheelers now electric. Electric PV grew 81% YoY to 26,682 units (penetration 6.6% from 4.5%) on a widening model choice, while electric CV volume doubled annually.

The increase in demand for EVs comes on the backdrop of rising fuel prices, triggered by West Asia conflict, new options to choose from and eroding anxiety around charging infra.

FADA President C S Vigneshwar said fuel-price hikes of have brought day-to-day running costs into focus for buyers — and increasingly, the low cost of ownership is tilting that everyday economic decision towards electric. Oil marketing firms increased petrol prices by 7.8% and diesel prices by 8.6% last month.

To sustain it, accessible financing, charging networks and predictable policy remain key, added Vigneshwar. Puneet Gupta, director, S&P Global Mobility, stated that India crossed 4% battery electric vehicle (BEV) penetration last year and this is the inflection point for BEV across the world.

Exports to the US in May surged more than 35% from the year before, after an 11% increase in April. CABINET APPROVES DECREE ON $350 BLN US INVESTMENT

South Korea's Cabinet on Tuesday approved a presidential decree as part of the process to allow $350 bn of strategic investments in the US to proceed under a trade deal struck between the countries last year. The decree specified some terms and conditions in the investment plan, including definition of "commercial reasonableness," which will serve as the basis for $200 bn in investments in US industries. Korea agreed to invest $150 bn in shipbuilding-related cooperation in return for more favourable tariff terms. Seoul defines a commercially reasonable project as one that can generate enough revenue to cover the principal and interest costs.

JAPAN

ECONOMY COOLS ON WEAK CAPEX IN Q1

Japan's economy lost momentum in the January-March quarter from the previous three months on sluggish capital expenditure, revised GDP data showed on Monday, pointing to challenges ahead due to the Middle East conflict. However, economists said the broader economy would likely remain resilient in coming months with the fallout from the Iran war not expected to seriously hurt private consumption or corporate investment. The Bank of Japan is expected to maintain its plan to continue raising interest rates. The GDP figures released by the Cabinet Office showed the economy expanded an annualised 1.8% in Q1, worse than the initially estimated 2.1% but better than economists' median forecast for 1.3% growth.

Winning return for Serena at Queen's Club

Serena Williams made a winning return to tennis after four years in retirement as the American legend partnered Victoria Mboko for a first round victory in the Queen's Club doubles on Tuesday. 'After becoming world champ, you need something else to drive you'

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN

THE wine was flowing, the banquet hall was filled with laughter and the phones were clicking memories to last a life time. On stage, a performer was enthralling the audience. Just after the curtains were drawn on the tournament's 14th edition, D Gukesh, the youngest undisputed world champion in history, was speaking to a few Indian journalists.

In one of the most vulnerable interviews ever given by an Indian sportsperson, the 20-year-old spoke about the last 12 months, why he has had issues with motivation for parts of 2025 but vowed to fight. "It's still something that I want to spend time with," he said. Excerpts...

■ The hardest thing about being a world champion?
Managing expectations. As much as you try to switch off from the outside world, you are still aware that there is this kind of elephant in the room. Like you are expected and also you expect something. I'm in general also an ambitious player and I keep going for wins. Considering all these things, it has been pretty hard. But, okay, it's a challenge. I either break from it or grow through it.

■ Till last week, you were a teen. Do you ever tell yourself, 'you know what, I'm still a teen. So, it's okay. It's fine'?
I think whenever you tell something like that, you're kind of tricking yourself. Because you know that you care. You know that this means a lot. And then, if you try to tell yourself, okay, that's fine'. It's not really... You're not tricking yourself anymore. The truth is, I care. I do get affected. I need to be performing, despite of all that. And about the age, I'm not using it as an excuse. It's just that, you know, it's normal. But also, I don't want to be... I want to do something more to strive for greatness. I'm not using it as an excuse. It's just something that I can understand these problems better. It doesn't mean it's fine.

■ Gayu (coach Grzegorz Gajewski) said that there's a lot of work happening but like when you become a GM, sometimes you chase the thing for so many months and it doesn't work out. Then in one second, something just clicks. You have no control over it and it just happens. Do you look at it something like that?
Yeah, I think it's like... it's a normal thing, right? Because, for anybody, becoming a world champion is such a huge drive that most people are lucky enough not to achieve it. So, they constantly have something to push themselves. And after that happens, you need to find something else that drives you. Like, it is a new phase. Obviously, it's not like I'm sitting on the couch and that's how my results are. I'm still putting in a lot of work. But, yeah, there are very minute things which I have to think about and I've been thinking about a lot. It's a challenge. I mean, one of the instances I remember also, after the cricket team won the 2011 World Cup, I think they had this streak of results going into the next couple of years where they were doing pretty badly.

■ You like 'A Shot at History'. Maybe you relate to that, where Abhinav Bindra wins an Olympic gold, something he's chased all his career, and then loses motivation. In your case, everybody is pushing themselves because they are chasing World Championship. You already achieved it at the age of 18. Was it difficult to find that new target?
Yeah, for sure. I mean, you can still do the work. You can still do everything that you've been doing. But the reason why you're doing it is different. You're not waking up striving for the World Championship. But it doesn't mean you have to lose motivation. There was obviously some, probably in parts of 25, there was some motivation issues. But, I think, if you really love the sport, if you're able to connect back to it, that's why people keep saying, find the reason why you started playing the sport.

■ What is it that you enjoy about chess right now?
Right now, it's a challenge. I can't say I'm fully there. But I'm focusing on just having fun, waking up every day and trying to learn something new about chess. Because I simply, I don't know what anything else that I want to spend my whole day with. Chess is something, even though I'm playing badly and it's frustrating, it's still something that I want to spend time with. To do something badly for a long time... if you don't have any kind of love for the game, there's no reason to continue. But just the fact that I'm trying so hard, means that there is something behind all of this. Just connecting with it, I think is the reason that I want to keep going.

The upcoming edition is supposed to be the biggest and most inclusive FIFA WC yet. However, reality seems different. From visa issues to travel bans & restrictions, Swaroop Swaminathan takes a look at the glaring issues leading up to the tournament...

Not so United

IN the early hours on Tuesday or just as dusk fell on Monday, depending on which part of the globe you where in, a Somalian referee, Omar Artan, scheduled to be part of the World Cup's officiating team, was scratched from it. A few days earlier, Artan had landed at the Miami International Airport. However, he was prevented from entering the country after a 'routine' check by the US Customs and Border Protection.

The Somalian, who was Africa's ref of the year in 2025, was one of 52 selected by FIFA to run the tournament in 2026. On Monday, the world governing body said: "FIFA can confirm that match official Omar Abdulkadir Artan will be unable to train and officiate at the FIFA World Cup 2026 after he was denied entry into the United States. FIFA is not involved in host country immigration processes, including visa adjudications..."

It's true that FIFA doesn't have control over who the host governments let in. But what it does have absolute control over is in taking tournaments away from designated host countries. In 2023, when Indonesia decided they wouldn't host Israel in the Under-20 World Cup, FIFA acted. They moved the whole thing to Argentina. Will there be a similar fall-out if and when the US government decides to ban officials or players or delegates from, say, Eritrea, Laos, Niger, Republic of the Congo, The Gambia, Senegal, Zambia, Cuba or Burundi during the 2028 Olympics? Citizens of these nine countries face a full or a partial visa ban right now.

Last August, Gianni Infantino, head of FIFA, had said: "There is a lot of misconception out there. Everyone will be welcome in Canada, Mexico and the United States for the FIFA World Cup next year. We are working exactly for that." This was supposed to be Artan's big moment in the sun. The biggest six weeks of his life cut short even before it had begun. This is not about Artan, who has been used as a pawn in a much larger issue pertaining to geopolitics, the Trump administration and the wider world in 2026. The 2026 edition is going to be the biggest anything the world has ever seen. Sure, you can argue the Olympics is bigger but there's no comparison. That's a two-week event. The World Cup, after two weeks, will still be playing group games this time. In terms of scale, the countries involved, and the countries hosting, this planet has not known or hosted anything like this outside of the two World Wars and the Cold War. Forty-eight countries. Six weeks. 16 cities across three nations. Ranging from Mexico City in the South to Vancouver in the North, this edition will touch an entire continent. Which is why, when the three countries got together to bid for it, they billed it as United 2026. It was supposed to be the most inclusive one yet. And for a few seconds, the rest of the world believed it when they saw images from Curacao, Cape Verde and Uzbekistan. Yet, everything about this World Cup feels garish. Like an unwelcome uncle who has just announced that he would be spending Diwali with you. The most inclusive World Cup yet also feels like it's designed to keep out the some of the most passionate fans while ensuring a select few profit the most. A World Cup of, by and for corporates.

Political tangle and Iran

The prelude to the mega event was embroiled in a political mess. One of the host countries assassinated the head of the state of a participating nation early this year. Visa bans are in place preventing fans of several qualified nations to actually watch the World Cup. There have already been several reports of accredited officials – journalists, non-playing team staff and delegates and at least one player – who have faced questions or outright been prevented from entering. Iran's predicament is unique. One of the participating nations will have to leave the US and go to Mexico thrice after matches to ensure they don't fall foul of a new 'arrangement'?

Iran would have no chance of debriefing in the dressing room. As soon as their matches end in the US, they would have to dash to the airport and leave US soil. While all 104 matches are scheduled to begin 0-0, the ones featuring Iran may as well begin 2-0 to the opposition because that's how disadvantageous the whole process is to them. The football World Cup is the one world event from a sporting perspective. A six-week celebration. Not much about this World Cup can be celebrated. Not the exorbitant ticket rates, not the travel bans, not potential ICE raids outside venues, not the way Iran is about to be treated... nothing.

Vocal Mamdani

NYC Mayor, Zohran Mamdani, a lifelong football fan, has been very vocal about the way the Trump administration has gone about this entire process. On Monday, he didn't mince his words: "If we cannot even allow the players, the teams, and the journalists covering those teams to come into this city and this country, then it begs a larger question about our commitment to the spirit of this tournament."

The football World Cup, for many, is an unshakeable human institution because of the way one can measure their own life in four year blocks. Parents started allowing you to stay up for games. Going to university. First serious relationship. Job change. Marriage. Kids. Losing a parent. Retirement planning. Allowing your kid to stay up to watch games. Each sentence representative of tumultuous change but it's why the rhythms of the World Cup are very important. A six week escape where life can be paused. An all you can eat buffet on an endless loop. Just before the 2022 World Cup in Qatar, Argentina's labour minister, Kelly Olmos, even briefly suggested that winning the World Cup would be more important that dealing with inflation. When they won the World Cup, a national euphoria temporarily enveloped all problems. It's why there has always been a romance attached to the football World Cup. It genuinely impacts the life of so many people.

That very romance now is up for sale to the highest bidder.

American Dream — 1 DAY TO GO

Big-hitters Lamine Yamal, Kylian Mbappe and Erling Haaland will be hoping to light up big stage in the next few weeks. In fact, Mbappe and Haaland will go head-to-head on June 27. A look at Group G, H & I...

GROUP G

Belgium: World No 9, Egypt: World No 29, Iran: World No 21, New Zealand: World No 85

With Kevin De Bruyne, Jeremy Doku and Romelu Lukaku in the side, Belgium boast a strong attack. However, they are not as strong in the defence after the retirement of several big stars. Egypt are defensively robust and the onus will be on the likes of Omar Marmoush and veteran Mo Salah, who was far from his best this season, to produce the goals. Meanwhile, the Iran team, which arrived in Mexico on Sunday, has faced numerous challenges. New Zealand, after a good run at qualifiers, will be eager for a good show.

GROUP H

Spain: World No 2, Cabo Verde: World No 69, Saudi Arabia: World No 61, Uruguay: World No 17

After a disappointing 2022 edition, Spain enter the latest edition with renewed hopes. Apart from Lamine Yamal, Spain boasts some of the big names like Pedri, Rodri and on paper, they're more than capable of going all the way. Similarly, Uruguay enter the event with high hopes. Federico Valverde is one of the leaders alongside Jose Maria Gimenez. Saudi Arabia, meanwhile, have had a difficult build-up. Their match against Uruguay will be Giorgios Donis's first competitive tie as a head coach. Cabo Verde defied odds to qualify for the first time ever.

GROUP I

France: World No 1, Senegal: World No 14, Iraq: World No 57, Norway: World No 31

The world will get to witness two best strikers – Kylian Mbappe and Erling Haaland – in the business go head-to-head on June 27. France, the 2022 runners-up, will be hoping to go all the way this time around. Apart from Mbappe, the Les Bleus boast many other potential match-winners like Ousmane Dembele and Michael Olise in their ranks. Norway, who are making a return to the big stage after 28 years, will hope that Haaland can inspire the team. Senegal, meanwhile, will be one of the teams to look out for with experienced pros like Sadio Mane, Kalidou Koulibaly in their ranks. Iraq are another team who'll be making a return after a long wait (40 years!).

Iran claim fans' tickets for US games revoked

TEHRAN: Iran's football federation on Tuesday said the United States has revoked its allocation of tickets for its World Cup group games, accusing the co-host of obstructing the attendance of Iranian supporters under the shadow of a bitter diplomatic row. The US has presented a number of bureaucratic hurdles for Iran at the global football spectacle, including refusing to issue visas for some of its support staff, as the two countries remain at war after the US and Israel attacked the country in late February. "With less than three days remaining until the start of the 2026 World Cup... the United States has once again acted to obstruct the presence of Iranian supporters at the stadiums hosting the national team's three group stage matches," the federation said.

Brazil's Neymar 'recovering well' ahead of opener

MORRISTOWN (US): Neymar is "recovering well" from the calf injury that has made him a doubt for the start of Brazil's World Cup campaign, the team said in a statement on Monday. Brazil's all-time record scorer underwent an MRI scan on Monday which showed he is "making good progress in his treatment" amid hopes that he will be able to play a part for Carlo Ancelotti's side in the United States. "He will continue to follow the recovery schedule and fitness programme as planned by the Brazil team medical staff," the Brazilian Football Confederation said. Neymar was diagnosed with a calf injury late last month and has since been in a race to recover fitness for the tournament, with Brazil kicking off their campaign against Morocco at the MetLife Stadium in New Jersey on Saturday.

Spain finalise prep with 3-1 win over Peru

PUEBLA (MEXICO): Mikel Oyarzabal and Pedri scored early goals and Spain overcame key absences to wrap up their World Cup preparations with a comfortable 3-1 victory over Peru on Monday in the Mexican city of Puebla. Lamine Yamal, Nico Williams, and Víctor Muñoz missed the game because of injuries and remained at the team's training base in Tennessee. Oyarzabal opened the scoring after just two minutes, and Pedri doubled the lead in the 32nd. Peru goalkeeper Pedro Gallese scored an own goal in the 53rd to give Spain a 3-0 lead. Jairo Vélez scored in the 66th for Peru, which missed out on qualifying for the World Cup. Coach Luis de la Fuente has said Yamal, Williams and Muñoz could be available to play in Spain's World Cup opener on June 15 against Cape Verde in Atlanta.

AGENCIES @ New Chandigarh

STAR all-rounder Hardik Pandya and senior batter Rohit Sharma have been cleared by the Sports Science team of BCCI's Centre of Excellence to participate in the upcoming three-match ODI series against Afghanistan starting on Saturday in Dharamsala.

Both Pandya and Rohit missed quite a few IPL matches for Mumbai Indians due to their respective issues. While Pandya was battling back spasms, Rohit had a hamstring niggle. Hardik has been at the CoE in Bengaluru since June 2. Former skipper Rohit was also at the CoE to assess his hamstring niggle and was cleared.

The incident happened on Sunday night after England outplayed New Zealand by 115 runs in the first Test of the summer at Lord's.

YOU click on a video questioning the 1969 Moon landing. The presenter points to odd shadows, a fluttering flag and grainy footage as "proof" that the mission was staged. You are sceptical but curious. The video ends and another begins. Soon, you are watching claims about Area 51, flat Earth theories or allegations that vaccines and climate science are part of hidden agendas.

Social media often receives the blame for these rabbit holes. But psychologists say the roots of conspiracy theories run much deeper than the internet.

"Conspiracy theories are certainly not new; people have long tried to explain major events by suspecting hidden groups working behind the scenes," said Dr Daniel Jolley, professor of Social Psychology at the University of Nottingham.

Long before social media existed, people speculated about secret societies, hidden plots and powerful groups manipulating events from the shadows. Throughout history, conspiracy theories have emerged during wars, political upheavals, pandemics and periods of social change.

Researchers say part of the explanation lies in how people make sense of uncertainty.

Human beings are natural pattern-seekers. Faced with confusing or threatening situations, the brain looks for explanations that bring order and meaning. Conspiracy theories can be appealing because they turn complex events into simple narratives with clear causes, villains and motives.

Reality is often less satisfying. Scientific and historical explanations may involve multiple factors, incomplete information and a degree of uncertainty. Conspiracy theories, by contrast, can offer seemingly straightforward answers.

"Conspiracy theories can therefore provide a sense of understanding and certainty, even when the explanations themselves are inaccurate," Jolley explains.

Conspiracy theories thrive because they satisfy human needs for certainty & belonging. However, social media amplifies their reach through algorithms & group chats

That appeal often becomes stronger during times of crisis.

"When people experience uncertainty, fear and a loss of control, they naturally begin searching for explanations," Jolley said

Increasingly, researchers argue that conspiracy beliefs are not simply the result of misinformation. They are also linked to the way people respond to ambiguity, anxiety and uncertainty.

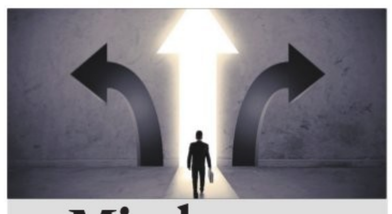
Studies suggest that people who dislike uncertainty, seek definitive answers or feel powerless may be more receptive to conspiratorial explanations. Intuitive thinking can sometimes outweigh careful scrutiny, particularly when claims are emotionally charged or appear to explain confusing events.

Psychologists have also identified the role of confirmation bias — the tendency to favour information that supports existing beliefs. Once people accept a particular explanation, they often pay more attention to evidence that reinforces it while discounting information that challenges it.

Repeated exposure can make the effect stronger. Familiar claims often feel more believable simply because they have been encountered many times before.

Other research has found links between conspiracy thinking and traits such as paranoia or a tendency to perceive hidden intentions in the actions of others. However, researchers caution that conspiracy beliefs are not confined to any single social group and can be found across education levels, professions and political backgrounds.

For Jolley, a more useful question is not who believes conspiracy theories but under what circumstances people become receptive to them. His research suggests that personal experiences matter. Workplace bullying, social exclusion and repeated feelings of powerlessness can influence how people interpret the behaviour and motives of others.



Mind maze

NEEDS THAT FUEL BELIEF

- Need for certainty
- Clear answers during confusing times
- Simple explanations for complex events

NEED FOR CONTROL

- Makes unpredictable events feel understandable
- Reduces feelings of helplessness

NEED TO BELONG

- Online communities provide identity and connection
- Shared beliefs create a sense of belonging

"Conspiracy beliefs do not emerge in a vacuum. People's lived experiences matter," he said.

Loneliness and isolation can also play a role. For some individuals, conspiracy communities provide not only explanations but also a sense of belonging.

"When people feel isolated or powerless, conspiracy theories can provide both an explanation and, in some cases, a sense of community," Jolley explains.

That social dimension is often overlooked. Online conspiracy groups frequently function as communities where members share a common identity and see themselves as possessing knowledge that others have missed. In some cases, the community becomes as important as the belief itself.

Researchers are careful to distinguish between conspiracy theories and genuine conspiracies. History contains many examples of governments, corporations and organisations concealing information or engaging in wrongdoing. Political scandals, corporate cover-ups and intelligence operations have all involved secrecy and deception.

The difference, experts say, is that genuine conspiracies are ultimately supported by verifiable evidence. Conspiracy theories often persist despite the absence of such evidence and can become resistant to correction. This is where social media enters the picture.

While psychology may create the conditions for conspiracy thinking, digital platforms can dramatically increase its reach.

"In the past, someone with a conspiracy belief might have struggled to find like-minded others. Today, online platforms can connect people across the world almost instantly," Jolley said.

Modern platforms are built around engagement. Content that provokes strong emotional reactions often attracts more attention, generating further recommendations and visibility.

Researchers studying online behaviour have found that users who engage with a few pieces of conspiracy-related content are often shown more of the same. Over time, this can create information environments in which similar viewpoints dominate while opposing perspectives become less visible. The result can be a reinforcing cycle. People seek information that supports their suspicions, algorithms supply more of it and repeated exposure gradually strengthens belief.

Once a conspiracy belief becomes part of a person's worldview, correcting it can be difficult. Challenges to the belief may be interpreted not as evidence but as proof that powerful interests are attempting to suppress the truth. This helps explain why fact-checking alone does not always change minds. Researchers increasingly point to media literacy, critical thinking and exposure to diverse viewpoints as more effective long-term responses.

Social media may accelerate the spread of conspiracy theories, but psychologists say the forces behind them are deeply human. In times of uncertainty, people search for explanations, patterns and meaning. Conspiracy theories offer all three, even when the evidence does not.

IN AN ENGAGING INTERACTION WITH CE, MP AND WRITER SHASHI THAROOR ELABORATES ON THE INTENT OF HIS NEW BOOK, THE SAGE WHO REIMAGINED HINDUISM: THE LIFE, LESSONS, & LEGACY OF SREE NARAYANA GURU

'Guru contributed enormously to saving Hinduism'

APARNA NAIR

THE combination is quite striking. On one hand is Sree Narayana Guru, a thinker who traversed lofty Advaitic heights while challenging social practices justified in the name of religion, yet whose legacy has remained largely confined to Kerala. On the other is Shashi Tharoor, a statesman and renowned wordsmith. The result is The Sage Who Reimagined Hinduism (Aleph Book Company), a book that seeks to lift the veil of obscurity surrounding the Guru and take his legacy to audiences beyond Kerala. Tharoor talks about the book and why he felt compelled to write it. Excerpts:

PIC: BP DEEPU

Shashi Tharoor

Q: What prompted you to write the book?

I was always struck by the fact that Sree Narayana Guru is so astonishingly well-known in Kerala, yet not many have heard about him in the north. In a random experiment, I asked 20 people about him, and 19 of them went blank. There was an information gap. I felt that if I tackled a subject otherwise deemed not saleable, it would probably attract a new set of readers to learn about the Guru. However, to be honest, readership has not been what I expected. Sadly, this great man is not attracting the attention he deserves. Part of it could be because I did not have the time to promote the book.

Q: Considering the magnitude of the Guru's life, authoring a book in a short-biography format would have been challenging...

The format is apt for this generation as young readers do not have the attention span for multi-volume biographies. My Nehru and Ambedkar biographies had the merit of brevity. This, too, I wrote in that spirit.

Q: Has the political patronage around him clouded his literary and spiritual legacy?

The title itself speaks about 'reimagined Hinduism'. I wanted to point out how he resolved the challenges of Hinduism in a remarkable way. I do lament in the legacy section of the book that he has been reduced to a caste [Ezhava] leader.

Q: Do you believe it is necessary to free him from the clutches of politics?

Oh, I agree totally. We need to be discussing him in depth. He needs to be interpreted beyond caste politics. Somehow, while Ambedkar is discussed nationally, Guru remains confined to Kerala.

Q: How far do you value him as a protector of dharma?

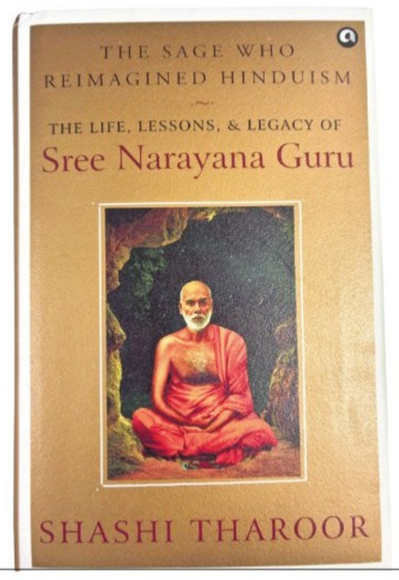
In many ways, he saved Hinduism from its worst excesses. Discrimination at that time was so severe that people could have been vulnerable to mass conversion to other faiths. Had Sree Narayana Guru not succeeded in offering an alternative within the existing fold, who knows what might have transpired? So, one can certainly argue that his role was significant in preserving Hindu dharma.

Q: Is that what true Hinduism is – the way he reimagined it?

People do not talk enough about Hinduism free from the shackles of caste prejudice. One of Guru's accomplishments, besides consecrating temples, was to hold the first exhibition for traders [from backward castes] in 1904. This is a man who believed that one becomes self-reliant through education and enterprise. That was his key message, and it is often overlooked.

Q: How much do you think the Varnashrama system reflects the essence of Hinduism?

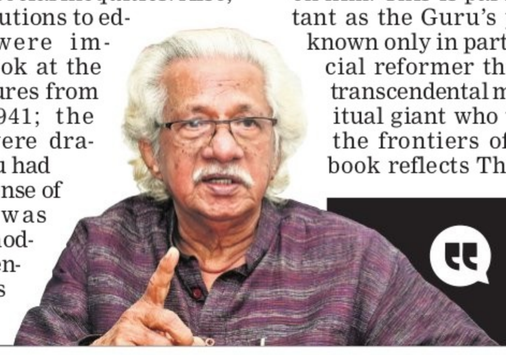
I have argued before that it is not central to Hinduism. I draw a distinction between Hinduism as theology and spirituality, and Hinduism as a social practice that is man-made and has no theological sanction. It does not make me a bad Hindu to reject the notion of untouchability. I grew up with very devout parents who had no faith in discriminatory practices. My father dropped his caste name because he was convinced that it was the right thing to do. His generation was inspired by Guru and Ambedkar. But I am afraid the next generation lost that idealism, partly because politicians have used caste to mobilise votes.



Q: How do you read Guru alongside the likes of Adi Shankaracharya?

Unlike Adi Shankaracharya, Sree Narayana Guru did not travel much. But what he did contributed enormously to saving Hinduism. If you look at a comparable story in Indonesia, Hinduism was once the faith of the archipelago. It was then overtaken by Buddhism, and later succumbed to Islam. You could argue the same fate would have befallen Hinduism had it not been for Adi Shankara, who reinvented the faith.

Parallelly, Sree Narayana Guru did something similar, especially in Kerala. His specific target was social inequities. Also, his contributions to education were immense – look at the census figures from 1901 to 1941; the changes were dramatic. Guru had a great sense of humour, was realistic, modern and scientific in his approach.



Q: From whatever you have written so far, there seems to be a gross misunderstanding of Sanatana Dharma...

Yeah, when you hear someone like Udayanidhi Stalin talk about Sanatana Dharma being a disease that must be eradicated, it is clear that he has not understood what Hinduism is. If he had said caste discrimination needs to be eradicated, I would have applauded. When he says Sanatana Dharma should be eradicated, how can I support him? It is my faith, which, in my understanding, does not include caste discrimination.

Q: But Hinduism is often accused of giving sanction to the caste structure...

Caste is very much a practice that is rooted in man-made social behaviour. Historical anecdotes testify this. One such is of Adi Shankara and his encounter with a Chandala in Varanasi, who was asked to move away to make way for the great saint. The Chandala refused to budge and asked: "What should I move – my body or my atman?" Adi Shankara fell at the Chandala's feet in reverence. He maintained that caste was not central to his teachings. Faults of some Hindus should not be laid at the door of Hinduism as a faith.

'I hope the book inspires new studies'

ADOOR GOPALAKRISHNAN

THE story of a philosopher, poet and reformer whose sparkling aura remained confined to a region for so long has been picked up by a world-renowned author who understands the sage as well as the contours of the faith he sought to reinvent.

This is how I feel about Shashi Tharoor's book on Sree Narayana Guru.

It is indeed the best thing to happen to all of us at a time when the Guru is being reread beyond the political influences that tried to own him. I am certain that Tharoor's work will greatly help in understanding a Mahaguru who is not well-known outside Kerala as he deserves to be. I hope it also encourages new studies on him. This is particularly important as the Guru's persona is still known only in parts – more as a social reformer than as a poet of transcendental merit or as a spiritual giant who thought beyond the frontiers of religion. The book reflects Tharoor's realisation that the restriction of the Guru's legacy to sections of society was partly due to the sage's association with just one community, when in fact Sree Narayana Guru operated at a height of thought that surpassed divisions of any kind. To free the Guru from these confines, the author draws upon his legacy of producing passionately researched works of literature to peek into the Guru's mind and highlight his hallmark idea of 'One caste, one religion, one God. This is no small feat.

Tharoor also explores the Guru's understanding of the essence of Hinduism as well as the poetic effulgence that amply fills works such as 'Daivadasakam'. The Guru is thus presented as a teacher for all times, in Tharoor's characteristic affable style marked by erudition and literary finesse. Considering the treatment of the subject and the reach Tharoor enjoys, I hope Sree Narayana Guru gains a wider world of recognition that he so richly deserves.

(The writer is an acclaimed filmmaker and author)

I am certain that Tharoor's work will greatly help in understanding a Mahaguru who is not well-known outside Kerala as he deserves to be

Karnataka Doctor Secures Sole Global Fellowship Seat at Cleveland Clinic

In a major achievement for Indian medicine, Interventional radiologist Dr. Trupthi Das Gowda has been selected for the Advanced Fellowship in Interventional Radiology at the globally renowned Cleveland Clinic in the United States for the 2026-2028 academic cycle. Significantly, she is the only candidate selected from across the world for the single fellowship position, making her the sole doctor chosen for the programme this year. The selection places her among a select group of specialists to gain admission to one of the most competitive fellowship programmes in interventional radiology.

Cleveland Clinic is ranked #2 in the U.S. in the 2025–2026 U.S. News & World Report rankings, earning a spot on the Honor Roll for the 35th consecutive year and ranking #1 in Ohio and the Cleveland metro area. It is also ranked #3 globally in Newsweek's 2026 World's Best Hospitals list.

Family Legacy

Dr. Trupthi Das Gowda is married to Dr Abhishek Hariharan Kandluri, MBBS MBA (JOHNS HOPKINS USA) Health care Business Strategist and is the daughter-in-law of distinguished healthcare entrepreneurs Dr Jothi Neeraja and Dr Upendra Kumar Kandluri, the visionary founders and promoters of the acclaimed People Tree Hospitals network and MAARGA Mind Care, one of India's leading psychiatric healthcare institutions, with established centres in Bengaluru and Gurugram. Her selection adds another chapter to a family deeply associated with healthcare and medical services in India.

Medical Roots

Dr Das also comes from a distinguished medical family in Hassan. She is the daughter of Dr Devadas Gowda of Anand Das Diagnostic Lab and radiologist and sonologist Dr K.V. Sujatha of Das Scanning Centre. Raised in an environment closely connected with medicine and diagnostics, she developed an interest in the field at an early stage and pursued a career in radiology.

Academic Record

Her academic journey has been marked by consistent distinction. She secured a top rank during her MBBS studies and later completed her MD in Radio Diagnosis under the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences, graduating with a university rank.

Global Credentials

Over the years, Dr Das has earned several national and international qualifications. These include a Fellowship in Interventional Radiology from the Manipal Academy of Higher Education, the European Diploma in Radiology (EDiR), and certification from the European Board of Interventional Radiology (EBIR). These credentials place her among a small group of Indian doctors with advanced qualifications recognised across international healthcare systems.

Specialised Field

Interventional radiology is regarded as one of the most specialised branches of modern medicine. The discipline uses advanced imaging technology to perform minimally invasive procedures for the treatment of complex conditions, including cancer and vascular diseases. The field has increasingly become an alternative to conventional surgery for several conditions due to reduced recovery time and targeted treatment approaches.

Research Focus

Alongside her clinical work, Dr Das has established a strong presence in medical research. Several of her scientific papers have been published in national and international medical journals, contributing to developments in radiology and image-guided therapies. Medical experts note that building a strong research portfolio is a key requirement for selection to advanced international fellowship programmes.

Global Recognition

Medical professionals say gaining admission to an advanced fellowship at Cleveland Clinic is among the most competitive achievements in the field. Candidates are evaluated on academic performance, clinical expertise, research contributions and international credentials. Dr Das's selection as the sole candidate for the fellowship is being viewed as recognition of her work and accomplishments at the global level.

Future Training

Dr Das is expected to spend the next two years in the United States undergoing advanced training in cancer interventions, vascular procedures and other image-guided therapies. Members of the medical fraternity said her achievement serves as an inspiration for young doctors, particularly women pursuing careers in specialised medical disciplines, while also bringing recognition to Karnataka's growing presence in advanced healthcare and medical research.

YOGA POSES TO EASE LOWER BACK STIFFNESS

Lower back pain is common, especially after long hours of sitting, driving, household work, or sudden changes in activity. For everyday lower back stiffness and mild non-specific discomfort, complete rest is usually not the best answer. Gentle movement can help the back feel less tight and more supported.

Yoga can be useful because it combines slow movement, breathing, hip mobility and relaxation. The aim is not to stretch deeply. The aim is to move within a comfortable range and help the body feel safe again. Here are five simple poses to try.

MARJARIASANA-BITILASANA (CAT-COW POSE)

Come on your hands and knees. Keep the hands under the shoulders and knees under the hips. As you inhale, gently lift the chest and tailbone. As you exhale, round the back slowly. Repeat eight to 10 times.

SALAMBABHUJANGASANA (SPHINX POSE)

Lie on your stomach. Place your elbows under your shoulders and lift the chest slightly. Keep the shoulders away from the ears. Keep the buttocks gently active and lengthen the tailbone towards the heels. Stay for five slow breaths. Avoid pushing hard into the lower back.

SETU BANDHASANA (BRIDGE POSE)

Lie on your back with knees bent and feet hip-width apart. Press the feet down, gently engage the buttocks and slowly lift the hips. Keep the knees pointing forward. Do not overarch the lower back. Hold for three to five breaths, then lower down. Repeat three to five times.

ARDHA PAWANMUKTASANA (ONE-LEG KNEE-TO-CHEST POSE)

Lie on your back. Bring one knee towards the chest and hold behind the thigh or shin. Keep the other leg bent if that feels better. Stay for five breaths and change sides.

JATHARAPARIVARTANASANA (RECLINED TWIST)

Lie on your back with knees bent. Slowly drop both knees to one side. Keep the movement small and comfortable. Stay for a few breaths, then repeat on the other side. Avoid forcing the twist.

Practice for eight to 12 minutes. Stop if pain increases. If you have pain travelling down the leg, numbness, weakness, fever, recent injury or severe pain, consult a doctor or physiotherapist.

The Many Worlds of Karnad

With June 10 marking seven years since acclaimed Kannada actor-playwright-director Girish Karnad's passing, here's a roundup of some books, plays, films and documentaries that remain relevant today

Manthan (1976)

Starring Karnad as Dr Rao, a veterinary doctor who comes to a village to help set up a milk cooperative, this critically-acclaimed film by Shyam Benegal grapples with village politics, class, caste and is inspired by the milk cooperative movement of Verghese Kurien (the White Revolution). The recently-restored version of the film was screened at the Cannes Film Festival 2024.

Nagamandala (1988)

Born from a Kannada folktale which AK Ramanujan told Girish Karnad and Chandrashekhara Kambara, today, Nagamandala is a classic Kannada play and film. Written by Karnad, it follows the story of Rani, a young bride neglected by her husband, who seeks a love potion to win his affection but ends up throwing it on an anthill. A snake, having consumed it, seduces Rani after taking the shape of her husband.

Tabbaliyu Neenade Magane (1977)

Having studied agriculture abroad, a man returns to his village in Karnataka with an American wife. What ensues is a clash between cultures and values over what a cow means: a means for profit, a culturally meaningful and sacred animal, or an animal for slaughter. Directed and adapted for the screen by Girish Karnad and BV Karanth, based on a book of the same name by SL Bhyrappa, the film won several Filmfare awards.

Girish Karnad: The River Has No Fear of Memories (2022)

In this podcast series recorded days before his passing in 2019, Karnad, in conversation with Arshia Sattar, Vivek Shanbhag and others, talks extensively about his life and work – his relationship with Kannada, the institutions and literary influences that shaped him, the literary and theatrical movements of the '50s, '60s and '70s, and more.

Founders of Karadi Tales CP Viswanath, Shobha Viswanath, and Narayan Parasuram

DEARLY 'BEAR'LOVED

As the homegrown children's publishing house Karadi Tales turns 30 this month, CE talks to its founders about their journey and keeping stories relevant for children in this day and age

RAKSHA MAALYA RV

A big, brown, friendly bear rests by the tree trunk as a monkey in a frock eagerly listens to him. This is one of the glimpses that nudges listeners to lunge into Karadi Tales' universe.

When Karadi Tales entered the storytelling world on June 26, 1996, Indians saw a significant shift. From moral and mythological stories to narrations from our neighbourhoods, the 30-year old award-winning children's publishing house set the tone for tales rooted in India.

Founders Shobha Viswanath, CP Viswanath, and Narayan Parasuram began their journey with a personal quest to find an Indian audiobook for their five-year-old. "We started with stories already known to many Indian children; whether it was from the Panchatantra, the Jataka (Tales) or from our folklore and retold them– not a Cinderella or a Goldilocks or a Snow White We set them to situational songs like we are used to in Bollywood films and a good narrator," says Shobha.

Where sound meets story

At its core, Karadi Tales returns to something older than publishing – the oral tradition. Parasuram says, "Storytelling traditions in our land have always emerged from the confluence of dhwani (sound) and chitram (image)," he says. For him, sound, image, and word are inseparable. "The storyteller must, in some measure, also be a musician; the illustrator, a writer; and the voice actor, a visual artist," he adds.

In the audiobooks, classical ragas, rhythm structures and layered soundscapes shape the emotional world of stories while pauses create a space for imagination, anticipation and reflection. "The goal is never to make the experience overly polished or fast. Instead, we want children to settle into the emotional cadence of a story," says Parasuram.

Performers, as Parasuram puts it, do far more than read aloud – they 'inhabit the emotional world of the story'. Among them, actor Naseeruddin Shah remains especially memorable. "Being among the very first voices of Karadi Tales, he is etched in the memories of many," he says.

Close to home

The motto of Karadi Tales is simple: stories should feel close to home. "For generations, children in India grew up reading about English boarding schools, snowy landscapes and lifestyles that felt aspirational because they were unfamiliar," says Viswanath, adding it was important for them to encounter characters and landscapes that reflected their own lives. The stories centred on Indian childhoods – paatis, aajis, local food, regional rituals, everyday textures of life.

The idea of 'belonging' eventually expanded beyond urban childhoods. Karadi Tales' StORI (Stories of Rural India) series draws from the People's Archive of Rural India (PARI), bringing reportage-based narratives into children's publishing. What began as a search through the PARI archive soon became a publishing idea shaped by a gap in understanding. "It was fascinating for us as urban adults. I was thinking how little we as adults even know of rural India," she says. The stories were not romanticised but shaped by labour, resilience and daily survival.

Beyond the page

As storytelling expanded geographically, it also changed form. Picture books introduced a new logic: "The text tells you only half the story," says Shobha. "The other half has to be gleaned from the visuals."

This allows illustrators to respond more freely to the manuscript. "We act as facilitators," says Shobha. "Thinking carefully about what visual language would best serve the story and helping shape the relationship between text and image." Often, illustrators also pick up emotional layers that are not explicitly written. "That element of surprise is one of the most magical aspects," she adds.

That understanding of picture books eventually led to a question: "Who gets excluded from picture books?" Dreaming Fingers stemmed from here, exploring tactile and Braille picture books for visually-impaired children. Though eventually discontinued, the project reshaped the team's understanding of storytelling. "It taught us that children experience stories through emotion, rhythm, physical interaction and imagination."

The future of storytelling

Today, Karadi Tales operates across a wide landscape of storytelling and the format has changed dramatically from casettes and CDs to QR codes.

Even as platforms evolve, imagination remains central. But Viswanath also points to a growing tension. "AI-generated imagery and highly immersive digital entertainment have changed how children encounter stories. It entertains, but children lose imagination when everything is visualised."

That shift, he adds, makes storytelling even more essential, not less. "Good storytelling will always remain a powerful counterpoint to passive consumption," he says. The aim, he adds, is to ensure that stories still leave space for uncertainty, humour, mystery and emotional depth.

In their 30th year, the team looks at expanding storytelling across multiple formats, languages and learning environments. But the direction is not towards replacing older forms. As Shobha puts it, children still respond most deeply when stories are meaningful. "When children encounter stories that genuinely engage them, the desire to read and listen is very much alive."

Puri Jagannadh and Charmi Kaur

Vijay Sethupathi

Vijay Kumar

VIJAY SETHUPATHI IS A VERY GOOD SOUL: VIJAY KUMAR

The actor finds a worthy opponent in Vijay Sethupathi in Slumdog: 33 Temple Road, and opens up about what drew him to work with him and director Puri Jagannadh

A SHARADHAA

THE teaser of Slumdog: 33 Temple Road was unveiled recently, carrying all the familiar trademarks of a Puri Jagannadh entertainer, with stylised action, larger-than-life characters, and a world simmering with conflict. But beyond the punches, explosions, and mass moments, the biggest talking point emerging from the first glimpse is the face-off between Vijay Sethupathi and Vijay Kumar, popularly known as Duniya Vijay.

While Vijay Sethupathi headlines the film as a beggar battling impossible odds, Vijay Kumar appears to be the force standing in his way. Sporting a rugged look and an intimidating screen presence, the actor makes a strong impact, reminding audiences why he remains one of the industry's finest performers when given intense roles.

Interestingly, the admiration between the two actors extends well beyond the screen. For Vijay Sethupathi, working with Duniya Vijay meant collaborating with an actor he had known about for years. "On the sets, he is very disciplined and talented. Working with him was a happy experience. His grasp of what the director wants in every shot is remarkable, and he always comes prepared," says Vijay Sethupathi.

Vijay Kumar, who has steadily expanded his creative footprint from acting to directing films like Salaga and Bheema, and his upcoming City Lights, while also working across languages, admits that one of the biggest draws of the project was the opportunity to work alongside Vijay Sethupathi.

"I wanted to observe Vijay Sethupathi closely. He is a very good soul. I was curious to know the human being behind the actor. That is what I liked about him. Once I got to know him better, I realised there is so much more to admire. The list is long," says Vijay Kumar.

The actor also credits Puri Jagannadh for recognising and utilising an actor's strengths. "There is a lot of combat in this film, and the action attracted me as well. Every actor wants to work with directors like Puri Jagannadh. He is one of the masters. As a fan of his work, I want this film to become a super hit."

Aishwarya Rajesh set for Kannada debut

CE FEATURES

US-based Amogh Vijay, who is returning to his roots, will helm the suspense drama and is currently in talks with a few interesting actors for key roles as the makers plan for release in Telugu and Tamil

Amogh Vijay

FOR filmmaker Amogh Vijay, the dream of directing a Kannada film has remained alive despite spending nearly a decade in the United States. Since moving there in 2016, the aspiring director has maintained a strong connection to Kannada cinema, and that long-cherished ambition is now finally taking shape.

Amogh Vijay is all set to direct a film that will be headlined by acclaimed actor Aishwarya Rajesh, which will be the actor's first Kannada-language project.

Having gained first-hand experience working on a couple of projects in various creative capacities, Amogh Vijay has now penned an original script that he will direct himself. The project, backed by US-based production house Mvrick Productions, is currently in the early stages of pre-production, with shooting likely to commence in September. The makers are also planning to release the film in Tamil and Telugu. An official announcement, including details of the supporting cast and crew, is expected in the coming months.

The development is particularly interesting because Aishwarya Rajesh has long been a name associated with Kannada cinema, even though none of those collaborations materialised. She was previously attached to Uttarakaanda, starring Dhananjaya, which is yet to go on floors. Reports had also linked her to a potential project opposite Dhruva Sarja. Now, it appears that her Kannada debut will finally happen through Amogh Vijay's film.

Over the years, Aishwarya has earned a reputation for choosing performance-driven roles over conventional commercial outings. From her award-winning turn in the Tamil film Kaaka Muttai to acclaimed performances in Kanaa, where she played an aspiring cricketer, and Farhana, a psychological drama that showcased her versatility, the actor has consistently demonstrated her ability to carry complex narratives.

The actor continues to stay busy across multiple industries. She has a packed slate of Tamil and Telugu projects and is known for choosing films that blend strong content with mainstream appeal.

For Amogh Vijay, collaborating with an actor of Aishwarya Rajesh's calibre for his Kannada film is a significant step forward. More importantly, the director is said to be assembling an interesting ensemble cast and is already in talks with a few actors for pivotal roles. The project represents fulfilment and a homecoming of sorts, with cinema serving as the bridge back to his roots.

Team Namma Range Rover

Telugu choreographer Aata Sandeep debuts as hero in Namma Range Rover

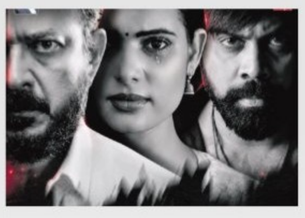
A FILM named after a luxury SUV naturally raises questions. The makers of Namma Ranger Rover are aware of that curiosity, and according to director OSR Kumar, the reason behind the title is closely tied to the story itself.

The film's teaser was recently unveiled at an event attended by members of the film fraternity, industry bodies and prominent public figures. OSR Kumar, who previously directed short films, makes his feature debut with Namma Ranger Rover. "The title suits the story perfectly. Why it is called Namma Ranger Rover is something audiences will understand when they watch the film," he said, adding that the team is preparing for a release next month.



The film introduces Telugu choreographer Aata Sandeep as a leading man, while Meghana Rajput plays the female lead. The supporting cast includes Aravind Rao, Bank Janardhan and Yathiraj. While Raja Shivashankar handled the cinematography, Guruprasad edited the film.

Produced by Dr Moulasharif CK under the CMM Hindustan Films banner, the project is the producer's third venture. A Supreme Court advocate from Bagepalli, Moulasharif, said he was drawn to the story when it was narrated to him and hopes to continue backing content-driven films in the future.

Blood bath

NAMRATA JOSHI

MARION Corroller's Sanguine (English title Species) has red written all over it. Not only is it bookended by scenes of a heavy flow of sanguine fluid but almost every other frame oozes blood making its French title sound far more apt and expressive than the English name.

The opening sequence sets the tone with a rhapsodical carnage in a fast food joint called Bloody Burger. The young cashier, the employee of the month, month after month, has a practiced smile pasted on his otherwise impassive face. He runs out of patience with a demanding diva of a social media influencer and suddenly changes colours to bludgeon the customer to pulp before bringing himself to a gory end as well.

Such a unique combination of the gruesome and the comedic, the extreme violence and the killing sprees are likely to get the attention and approval of the far-from-squeamish fans of genre cinema but it's the subtext, though extremely pertinent for the times we are in, that lacks enough meat and could have done with a slightly better fleshed out screenplay, credited to Le Corroller herself along with Thomas Pujol.

2026 will go down in the history of world cinema as the year of successful independent horror films made by popular YouTube creators—Curry Barker's Obsession and Kane Parsons's Backrooms to name two. Once dismissed as low budget and inferior, the rise of genre cinema has been a steady phenomenon of late, getting patronised, validated and celebrated not just by the box office but the haughty and exclusive international film festivals as well.

A sideward element to the trend has been female filmmakers taking to horror as a tool to raise gender issues and social concerns. Julia Ducournau (Titane), Jennifer Kent (The Babadook) and Coralie Fargeat (The Substance) have channelled it to focus on the unique physical, mental, familial, social challenges of womanhood. Now Le Corroller joins the growing group with her first feature, the French body horror film that premiered in the Midnight Screenings section of the Cannes Film Festival.

CINEMA WITHOUT BORDERS

In this weekly column, the writer introduces you to powerful cinema from across the world

Film: Sanguine (Species)

At the centre of it are two women, Margot (Mara Taquin), a young intern at a hospital ER, and her tough as nails and difficult to please, ogre of a department head, Professor Virgile (Karin Viard). Initially enthusiastic about being a doctor, with the trauma of losing her mother to medical negligence as the driving force, Margot is soon confronted with the daily struggles, stresses, gruelling schedules, competitive colleagues and a toxic work environment. Her body starts showing peculiar, scary changes that she can't control and cure. Over time she realises that she is not the only one, it's an epidemic catching many young people off guard, including the Bloody Burger cashier and a pregnant insomnia patient of hers, sporting strange rashes on her back.

If it's a French film, then deviant relationships are not just regular but obligatory. So, you have a subplot with Margot forming a love triangle with fellow interns Louis (Sami Outalbali) and Pauline (Kim Higelin). Needless to say it adds nothing to the film, not even the necessary shock value.

The body horror in Species is all about the work-life imbalance and the burn out it results in. The enervation leading on to a total collapse with individuals mutating into creatures from another world. It's a theme that is universally resonant and Le Corroller grounds it in the life of Gen Z. Entirely antithetical to Infosys co-founder Narayana Murthy's controversial statement advocating 70-hour workweek for Indian youth but similar to actress Deepika Padukone's demand for eight-hour daily work shift that eventually had her walk out of Sandeep Reddy Vanga's upcoming Spirit and the sequel to Kalki 2898 AD.

What Le Corroller lacks in writing, she makes up with confident direction, drawing out wonderfully horrific performances from Taquin and Viard. The visual effects by Pierre-Oliver Persin (previously celebrated for his work in The Substance), especially the body mutation scenes, are outstandingly realised. The use of space, like Margot's windowless room, by production designer Anne-Sophie Delseries stands out in evoking the sense of suffocation with the music by Rob adding to the doom and gloom.

Species is adequately pulpy and makes for a satisfying sinister watch but could have risen a notch or two by plumbing the depths of the dreadful.
